Security sought for dairymen

CAMP HILL — Nine out of 10 Pennsylvania milk dealers aren't adequately bonded to protect against financial bankruptcy, says a spokesman for Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative. The Syracuse, N.Y. - based dairy co-op, as well as several other farmer cooperatives and farm organizations are attempting to give dairymen more assurance that they will always be paid for the milk they ship.

Hosting a breakfast here on Monday morning for Pennsylvania legislators and Department of Agriculture representatives, Eastern officials emphasized the need for changes in the bonding program. A milk dealer in Pennsylvania is bonded for $200,000, which in some cases is only equivalent to a few days' supply of milk.

According to proceedings at the breakfast meeting, and conversations afterward, there is little disagreement among the various parties that Pennsylvania milk dealers are

Thursday evening was Farmers Fun Night at the State Farm Show Building in Harrisburg and a good crowd was on hand to participate or at least witness the occasion. Bale throwing was just one of the activities which aroused the interest and cheers of spectators. Among the crowd were Suzet and Susann Leighow, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Leighow. They are from Columbia County, which is also home base for former Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture, Kent Shelhamer, originator of the Machinery Exposition and Farmers Fun Night.

Fun Night opens Pa. Expo

By KENDACE BORRY

HARRISBURG — The first ever Pennsylvania Farm Machinery Expo got underway Thursday with exhibitors and farmers comparing notes in the main exhibition area throughout the day and Farmers Fun Night dominating the evening activities in the main arena.

Completely open to the public, several contests were held with a square dance rounding out the evening.

The first event of the night was the cow chip throwing contest, with the competitors using specially dried cow chips provided by the Pa. Dept of Agriculture.

Named champion in the event was Dieter Krieg, editor of Lancaster Farming, with a throw of 93 feet, 1 inch. Dave Sessaman was second with a throw of 71 feet, 4 inches.

In the hay bale throwing contest, two brothers from Lebanon County took top awards. In the under 14 years of age division, Lester

Snyder is deputy ag secretary

HARRISBURG — J. Luther Snyder has been named a Deputy Secretary of Agriculture for the State of Pennsylvania. He was formerly Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange.

Snyder's appointment to the Department of Agriculture came as no surprise to many observers, who had correctly speculated ever since the November election that Snyder would receive such an offer. He was sworn into office last Friday.

Also taking the oath of office that same afternoon was Chester Heim of the Pennsylvania Farmers Association. He too is now a Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, serving under Penrose Hallowell and Governor Richard Thornburgh.

Snyder, who is known in agricultural circles as an amiable, white-haired fellow with a quick sense of humor, was Master of the State Grange since October of 1974. He was born and raised on a York County farm and now lives in Camp Hill.

Acting Secretary of State Barton Fields administers the oath of office to Pennsylvania's two new deputy agriculture secretaries. At left are J. Luther Snyder and his wife. To the right are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Heim. Standing in the rear is the chief of Pennsylvania's Department of Agriculture, Penrose Hallowell.

Cattle potential discussed

By JOAN LIESAU

UNIVERSITY PARK — "The feeder who follows the same practices year after year, regardless of economic condition, is probably overlooking additional profit potential" said Harold W. Harpster, assistant professor of animal science at the Pennsylvania State University.

Harpster added that cattle producers should "try not to get locked into one breed, sex or feed" as he spoke on March 2nd at the Pennslyvania Livestock Day, held at Penn State.

In comparing feeding systems, Harpster used high moisture corn silage and high moisture corn grain, two of the most common feeds for cattle in Pennsylvania. Among the advantages for silage, more energy can be harvested per acre. There will be a slower rate of gain, however, compared to the high grain programs. Because of an increased number of days on the lot with silage, the animals maintenance and non feed costs will increase.

Omaha Cattle

March 8, 1979
Cattle - Compared Previous Week's Close

Closing prices on slaughter steers and heifers 2.50-3.00 higher. Cows firm to 50 cents higher than late previous week and bulls firm.

Fed cattle prices advanced sharply on an 1150 head Monday run as weekend snow and ice storms virtually paralyzed livestock movement. The early upturn was generally maintained on later sessions as road conditions improved and supplies expanded. However, most buying interests were selective on the late rounds and were competitive only for immediate requirements. Carcass prices also advance sharply but there too demand was at times of a restricted nature. Feeder buyers were again quite aggressive for two-way steers suitable for further finish and some 2100 head were returned to the feedlots. Much of the steer and heifer supply was good to average choice and mud was a prevalent condition. Steers made up approximately 35 per cent, heifers 28 per cent, cows 10 per cent and feeders 26 per cent.

STEERS: Seven loads and part load choice and prime 3-4 1138-1292 lbs. 70.75-71.00. Choice 2-4 1000-1250 lbs. ranged 69.00-70.50, those at 69.00-69.50 usually carrying considerable mud. Mixed good and choice 2-3 1000-1250 lbs. 68.00-69.50. Good 2-3 63.50-68.50.

Average of LS-214, detailed quotations for choice 900-1100 lb. steers this week 69.72; choice 1100-1300 lbs. 69.70. Average weight steers for three days 1136 lbs. as compared 1150 lbs. previous week. Average weight heifers for three days 968 lbs. as compared 987 lbs. previous week.

HEIFERS: Three loads and part loads choice and prime 3-4 975-1078 lbs. 68.50-69.00. Choice 2-4 900-1075 lbs. 66.00-68.00, occasionally 68.25. Mixed good and choice 2-3 65.00-66.50. Good 2-3 61.50-65.00.

COWS: Utility and commercial 2-4 52.00-54.00, few 54.50. Cutter 50.00-52.50. Canner and low-cutter 47.00-51.00.

BULLS: 1-2 1400-2100 lbs. 60.00-68.00, few individual 1 69.00-70.00.

FEEDERS: Fleshy two-way steers 2.50-3.50 higher. Near 2000 head choice 925-1134 lb. two-way steers 69.50-71.00 during week. Load choice with end prime 596 lb. steers 100.00.

TO AVOID SOIL COMPACTION

One of the dangers of getting on the ground with heavy equipment this time of the year is that we get the wet soil packed so hard that it will produce poorly. With modern machinery the weight is much more than a team of horses or mules. As a result, we have ground that is hard as a concrete road and never recovers. Producers should make a special effort to wait until the ground is sufficiently dry. Gardeners need to keep the same thing in mind. When the soil is worked too wet, it becomes hard and forms into clods. This type of soil structure will not produce good crops for the season.

TO APPLY AND INCORPORATE QUICKLY

Livestock and poultry manure will be getting considerable attention in the coming months. This farm by-product has been stored for the past several months and when weather permits, it will be taken to the fields for soil fertility. In many areas, non-farm people have moved to the country and object to some of these rural odors. Farmers should keep this in mind and make every effort to spread the manure in clear, fast-drying weather and try to get it incorporated into the topsoil as rapidly as possible. With liquid manure, the spreaders with soil injection equipment is certainly a good way to prevent objections. In addition, manure that is mixed with the soil will maintain the fertilizing elements much better.

TO PLAN WEED CONTROL PROGRAM

Weeds continue to be one of the major factors in reduced crop yields. This is true in the garden as well as in the field. The battle to control weeds is not a new one; generations ago cultivation was the method of weed control. Now herbicides are commonly used to combat weeds. However, we still have too much crop damage from weeds. At the recent Forage Workshop, Nat Hartwig, Weed Specialist from Penn State, informed the group that for every pound of weeds produced, that crop yield was reduced by the same weight. Some weeds amount to several tons per acre; this means that much less of the desired crop. Plan for a better weed control program this year.

TO ELIMINATE JOHNSON GRASS

Too many farms in this part of the state are not controlling Johnson Grass; this rank-growing grass, which resembles sorghum, is very aggressive and will take over most other crops. Farmers who have this problem should make a special effort to eliminate the weed from their farms. In corn ground the Spring treatment includes Eradicane applied about the middle to latter part of May and worked into the soil thoroughly; this means a delay in corn planting, but is necessary in order to stop the growth of the Johnson Grass. The other treatment is during the Summer when the Johnson Grass plants are about ready to shoot seedhead and spray with Roundup. The control of Johnson Grass might mean the sacrificing of a good crop yield for a year, but is the thing to do. Johnson Grass can put a field out of production in a few years when left un-controlled.

Lesson for March 11, 1979

Background Scripture:
1 Corinthians 1:10-25; 3:10-23;
Devotional Reading:
1 Corinthians 1:17-25

Just a little more than three months ago we were shocked and sickened by the electrifying news that came to us from the small jungle nation of Guyana. As TIME magazine headlined the story: "A RELIGIOUS COLONY IN GUYANA TURNS INTO A CULT OF DEATH"! For once, the news media found it difficult to overstate the enormity of the tragedy in which some 900 hundred people died in a mass murder-suicide.

Behind this tragedy, we learned, was the mysterious power of the cult's leader, a strange combination of charismatic power and mental derangement. One grieving parent who lost two daughters and a grandchild in the tragedy lamented that his children had posited in the cult's leader a trust and authority that should never be given to any human being.

"I Belong To Apollos"

The tragedy of the People's Temple in Guyana may be one of the more dramatic illustrations in the history of Christianity, but the cult of personality has always been a consistent danger to the gospel. It was one of Paul's grave concerns at Corinth:

For it has been reported to me by Chloe's people that there is quarrling among you, my brethren. What I mean is that each one of you says, "I belong to Paul," or "I belong to Apollo," or "I belong to Cephas," or "I belong to Christ." Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptised in the name of Paul? (1 Cor. 1:11-13). Is Christ divided? Couldn't we update 1 Corinthians like this: What I mean is that each one of you says: "I belong to Luther," or "I belong to Calvin," or "I belong to Wesley"? Is Christ divided.?

Paul asks of the Corinthians a tremendously important key question. "What then is Apollos? What is Paul? So, too, then we might ask: "What is Luther? What is Calvin? What is Wesley?" And the answer Paul gave to his own question is no less appropriate for ours: "Servants through who you believed, as the Lord assigned to each. I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the growth" (3:5,6).

No Other Foundation

God works through gifted personalities must somehow point, not to themselves, but back to God himself. These personalities are not meant to be competitors and foes - as often they are presented by their followers - but, as Paul puts it: "fellow workers for God" (3:9).

I am not arguing against denominations and varied confessions of faith, but against the cults of personality and factionalism that can result when denominationalism and confessionalism focus on the personality of the servant and forget that there can be but one foundation and one foundation alone: Jesus Christ!

Cattle

Harpster explained that silage was the best way to utilize corn which has been damaged by frost or drought. Silage does require more supplemental protein. It is also more suitable for NPN treatment. Harpster said "properly supplemented, (silage) can be fed as a complete ration whereas high grain normally requires an added roughage source to maintain rumen function." Silage, he said, is usually more profitable at high corn prices an lower interest rates. "There is little cash market potential for silage," making it less flexible, and it may be "agronomically more damaging to the soil with little plant residue cover."

Harpster said that when you are comparing the two systems, the feeder must ask if the savings in nonfeed costs offset the cost of a more expensive ration. "Current conditions would tend to indicate a positive answer." Harpster cited that with relatively cheap corn prices, expensive feeder calves and high interest rates are key factors. "High priced calves bought with a high interest loan often indicates that the cattle spend the least amount of time possible in the feed lot."

Harpster indicated that NPN applied to corn silage "does usually pay." The crude protein content of the silage is increased and beneficial effects on silage fermentation may occur, increasing the energy value and bunk life of the silage.

Urea plus minerals at ensiling time tends to buffer the silage, he said.

As we select cattle larger and larger, Harpster questioned what really happens to efficiency. "Within beef breeds, there is very little different to equal finish. The one exception is in the Holstein breed."

With a Holstein, Harpster told the audience, "feed per gain is increased 15 to 20 percent, versus beef breeds to reach an equal finish." Harpster explained that the reason for this was past selection, and the Holstein being selected for milk production rather than muscle growth and finish.

Another choice to be made is whether calves or yearlings are wanted. "In general the feed intake of yearlings is 10 per cent above that of calves. The average daily gain however, is 15 per cent above a calf's. Harpster said a calf that was not placed on a high energy ration, or was on a poor nutrient level, will respond more as a yearling when put on a high plane of nutrition. This compensatory growth (a possible 15 to 20 per cent faster gain then calves) if realized, may produce extra profit.

"There is considerable resistance by many cattlemen in the feeding of heifers. Pregnancies, heat periods and unfavorable markets are the key factors limiting their use. However, purchase price discounts are often great enough to make heifer feeding as profitable or more profitable than steer feeding, assuming an acceptable market can be located." Harpster related that within a given type of cattle, heifers will usually be equivalent in fatness at 80 to 85 per cent of the weight of steers. Feed requirements are similar between heifers and steers.

"It is hard to conceive of economic conditions in which it would not be profitable to use a growth stimulant and Rumensin" Harpster said. The growth stimulants decrease feed per gain by 10 per cent and increase average daily gain by 10 per cent. The cost, he said, is 90 cents per 100 days on feed (for most). "In typical feed lot rations, Rumensin decreases feed per gain requirements 10 per cent with very little effect on the rate of gain. In most studies, the benefits of each product are fully realized when they are used in combination." Harpster suggested that Rumensin would cost $1.75 per 100 days. In the feed lot there was no gain response with Rumensin, but a gain did show when the cattle were on grass.

Harpster concluded that "most cattle feeders spend too little time improving their buy-sell management skills." A study from Minnesota recently showed what some producers were doing to get $35 to $40 more per animal fed. These feeders bought more short yearlings or heavy calves in the Fall and marketed more fed cattle in the seasonably high Summer market. They purchased more cattle themselves at non-local auctions, farms and ranches, omitting an order buyer. A lower quality (more good, less choice) feeder animals was purchases and upgraded by feeding to choice grade. Healthier cattle were purchased, reducing death loss one percentage point. The feeders sold less good grade underfinished cattle. More cattle were sold directly to local packers, and more were sold on their own. More marketing strategies and tools, especially a marketing news service was used.

1 OUT OF 3 DAIRYMEN ARE WORMING THEIR HEALTHY-LOOKING COWS. SOON IT'LL BE 1 OUT OF 2.

HERE'S WHY.

More and more profit-minded dairymen are convinced their healthy-looking, high-producing herds are infected by worms. Even in cold northern states.

They're convinced that worms can slow growth of young stock and delay maturity of heifers.

They're convinced worms cut milk production in their milkers.

What makes them think so?

Large-scale trials, demonstrations, and experiments in Wisconsin and elsewhere have shown how widespread and damaging worms really are. The figures are convincing. (Data on request.)

More dairymen are worming because they are learning about worms: how they reproduce and do damage, and how worm control with TBZ®, the Pre-Freshening Cattle Wormer, can help pay off.

Knowing is believing

Once the facts are known, it isn't hard to believe that 9 out of 10 herds have worms. Or, why milk losses can be high. Or, why a worm-control program can pay for itself many times over.

Get the facts

Get the facts for yourself. Send for this 16-page, easy-to-read, illustrated booklet on worming of dairy herds. It's free, it's helpful, and it may give you some of the most important management information you'll get this year. Why not sit down and send for it now.

Cloister FFA wins meat judging contest

EPHRATA — Three sophomores from the Cloister FFA Chapter comprised the winning Lancaster County FFA meat judging team during recent competition at the Kunzler's and Co. Inc., Lancaster.

Seven FFA chapters from the County were represented. Members of the winning team included Marvin Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fox, Lititz R1; Marvin Horst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horst, Ephrata; and Larry Horst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Horst, Stevens R1.

Marvin Fox was also the top inidividual judge from approximately 30 individuals competing.

In competition from the Cloister FFA on an individual basis were Marvin Weiler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Weiler, Stevens R1. Marvin placed second. Also, Avery Copenhaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Copenhaver of Akron. Avery placed fourth. Scott Augsburger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Augsburger, Reinholds R1, was the seventh high individual.

"It was a challenge" said first place winner, Marvin Fox. "The class of beef ribs was the hardest to place because they all looked alike."

The contest consisted of identifying 25 retail meat cuts, placing a class of hams, beef ribs, and yield and quality grading five beef carcasses.

The second place team was from Lampeter-Strasburg and the third place team was from the Manor FFA Chapter.

The winning team received a traveling trophy which they won in 1976, 1978, and now in 1979. The Trophy must be won three years in a row to find it's permanent home in a chapters trophy case. Lancaster Stockyards, Inc. are the trophy's sponsor. Gere Gregg and other Kunzler personnel prepared the contest.

The winning team's coach was J. Carl Graybill, Ephrata High School agriculture instructor.

In 1776, nearly every American was a farmer. Today, only one American in seventy, yet we are the greatest food producing nation on earth.

One-fourth of everyone who ever lived is alive today. Farmers must feed this hungry world.

Today's farmers are made of the same pride, grit and independence that helped our forefathers mold this remarkable country.

And we need to continue to develop new generations of agriculturalists prepared to lead, feed and succeed.

Like the farmer who plants in hope and cultivates in faith, we are as optimistic about America's agricultural future as we are proud of her past.

ALEXANDRIA, Va. - Middle Atlantic Order Market Administrator Joseph D. Shine announced a Class I milk price of $13.30 per hundredweight for April 1979. The price is down 3 cents from March but is $1.52 higher than the April 1978 Class I price. There is also a 6-cent direct-delivery differential applicable to producer milk received at plants located within 55 miles of Philadelphia.

Shine announced a Class II milk price of $10.56 per hundredweight for February 1979 and a butterfat differential of 12.8 cents for the month. The Class II milk price is down 4 cents from the previous month.

These class prices are based on the February 1979 Minnesota-Wisconsin manufacturing milk price of $10.52 per hundredweight adjusted to a 3.5 per cent butterfat content.

The USDA reported that the wholesale price of Grade A butter at Chicago for January was $1.1130 per pound and the nonfat dry milk price was $.7579 per pound, f.o.b. plants in the Chicago area.

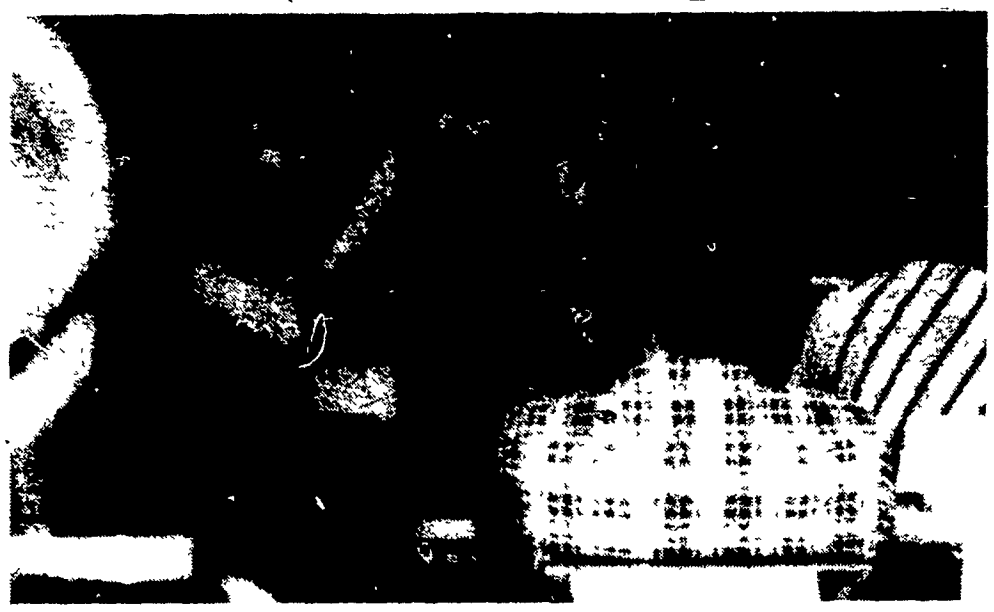
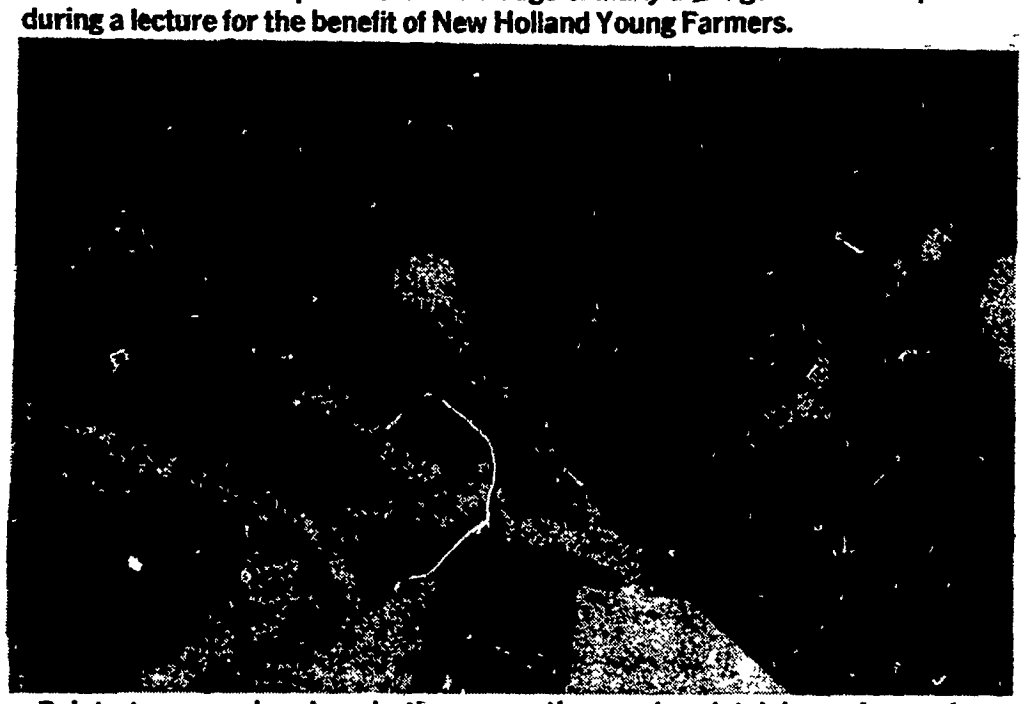
New Holland Young Farmer meeting

How well do you know your chopper?



Fred Brownlee sharpened the knowledge of many a forage harvester operator during a lecture for the benefit of New Holland Young Farmers.



Points to remember in selecting, operating, and maintaining a forage harvester were made clear by a specialist from New Holland Machine Company, Fred Brownlee, right. New Holland Young Farmer Advisor Donald Robinson, left, called it one of the most worthwhile meetings ever held by his Chapter.

By DIETER KRIEG

NEW HOLLAND — A forage harvester which uses the cut and throw principle is much more efficient and durable than a similar machine which has separate mechanics for cutting and delivering forage. The shear bar is much more important than the knives, but it doesn't generally receive appropriate attention. These bits of advice come from Fred Brownlee, who specializes in forage chopper technology. He was guest lecturer at a recent meeting of the New Holland Young Farmers and gave what was considered to be a highly informative and objective report. The meeting took place in the Sperry New Holland Service Training Center, here.

Although New Holland machines were on hand for inspection and teaching purposes, the occasion was used for anything but commercial intentions. Topics of discussion included the basic principles of operation of a forage chopper, selection of such a machine, and maintenance of it. New Holland Young Farmers Advisor Donald Robinson commented there was much to be learned during the session, and the remarkably unbiased presentation was highly appreciated by both himself and the visiting farmers.

Interest in the meeting ran high, as was evidenced by the fact that many of the farmers were still listening and inquiring an hour after the usual closing time for such meetings.

Brownlee told them, for example, that fewer knives give a more uniform cut, moisture and low volume cause problems with cut-and-throw machines, the scraper on the lower feed roll must be cleaned, and it is extremely important that knives and shear bars be maintained properly.

Brownlee also revealed that all the knives made for

"The Merrill Lynch Guide to Hedging"

If you are a dealer, producer or processor to whom the cost of basic raw materials is an important factor—you should be familiar with the "advance-pricing" advantages and techniques of hedging in commodity futures.

This exclusive Guide gives you a broad, in-depth background in how to use commodity hedging to protect yourself against widely fluctuating prices.

We believe you will find the Guide both an excellent introductory briefing aid and valuable source of reference on some of the finer points of hedging.

For instance, it demonstrates, by specific example, how producers may lock into satisfactory prices. How dealers may fix their costs at predetermined levels. How processors of raw materials may assure themselves a regular flow of supplies—while protecting their inventory against price declines. And much more. Chopper knowledge major U.S. forage harvester manufacturers come from one company, which means that the knives don't vary all that much from one brand of chopper to the next. Differences might include degree of hardening or tempering, and ease of replacement. The engineering specialist also emphasized that every company advertises only its most advantageous points, and that farmers should look at all parts of the machine before making a selection.

In selecting a harvester, Brownlee recommends that the purchaser consider dealer support, system compatability, the versatility of the machine and serviceability.

If a farmer isn't concerned about finely cut forage and won't have use for a screen, then the cut-and-throw type of machine might be his answer, says Brownlee. Because such a harvester has fewer parts, it is more efficient, requires less power, and is more durable. It's disadvantage is, however, that high moisture and low volume can make its operation unsatisfactory. "The cut and blow machine will deliver better under almost all conditions," Brownlee concluded.

To get the optimum performance from any harvester, Brownlee says farmers should keep a close eye on the shear bar, scraper, knives, and base unit height. Proper sharpening is critical, as is good beveling and positioning of the shear bar. The height of the unit can also affect the forage harvester's operation. On corn, says Brownlee, the higher selections are preferable, while lower positions generally work best with hay.

"When you sharpen knives, sharpen thoroughly," lectured Brownlee, who is employed by New Holland as a representative for both the company and equipment users. As such, he listens to designers, engineers, testing personnel, dealers, and farmers. His job is to funnel ideas from all sides so that they might be considered and incorporated into the final product.

While some farmers may think that an indentation in a blade will disappear with usage, Brownlee says it won't because increased friction on such spots will alsways keep the indentation ahead of the rest of the blade. This would be particularly true if the shear bar is not close.

An item which many farmers overlook, and some don't eyen know about is the scraper. It's located on the rear of the bottom feed roll. If it isn't cleaned periodically, an accumulation of debris will raise it and cause the machine to operate with decreased efficiency.

The shear bar is one of the most important pieces of the machine, but it doesn't always get appropriate attention, the New Holland teacher-engineer continued. He says that it's more important to have the shear bar adjusted properly than to sharpen the knives.

"The shear bar is the other half of the 'scissors' - so one could say that, on a 12-knife machine, the shear bar is 12 times more important than the knives," Brownlee explained.

"Like the two halves of a scissors or shears, they don't work very well with the halves apart." Accordingly, it is important to keep the shear bar up close to the knives. Furthermore, adds Brownlee, it takes a lot of extra power to cut when the shear bar isn't adjustd to be tight and flush.

"Poor shear bar adjustment wears knives out fast," Brownlee warned, adding that "too many guys sharpen knives but don't do anything about shear bar position." To prolong the life of both the knives and shear bar, the manufacturer has them available with tungsten-carbide edges.

While the shear bar itself is important, it's support can't be neglected either. If the area beneath the shear bar isn't cleaned each and every time the shear bar is repositioned, then the accumulation of debris underneath can decrease cutting efficiency and even cause the the shear bar to break.

Beveling was also emphasized by Brownlee, whose job takes him all over the United States. He recommends that a ¼-inch "heel" be kept at the leading edge of the knife so that the cutting surface does not become too thin and fragile. Many farmers and professional machinists do not know about this recommendation and frequently grind the knives down to a shallow angle, he commented. On the other hand, too much of a "heel" amounts to useless surface and can collectively serve as a block when forage is to be cut.

In addition, Brownlee informed farmers that no forage harvester blades have a perfectly straight

January egg production reported

HARRISBURG – January 1979 egg production in Pennsylvania totaled 319 million, according to the Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service.

The January production was equal to the December 1978 production but 11 per cent above the 287 million eggs produced in January 1978. The January 1979 average of 14.8 million layers was nine per cent higher than the previous year. Egg production per 100 layers was 2164 compared with 2158 in December and 2114 in January 1978.

The nation's laying flocks produced 5.87 billion eggs during January, two per cent more than a year ago. The number of layers during January averaged 291 million compared with 286 million a year earlier. Egg production per 100 layers during the month was 2019 eggs compared with 2009 a year ago.

Weiler was first; and in the older age class, Eugene Weiler was named winner. Their throws were 26.7 feet and 37 feet, respectively.

Champions in the log sawing was the team of Lester Moyer and John Herbert, representing Berks County. Using their trusty saw, they made three cuts through the 12 x 12 inch log in one minute, one second. Placing second in the contest were Charles Draydus and Matt Kolb, Jr. with a time of 1 minute, 53 seconds.

There were two divisions in the tobacco spitting–one for accuracy and one for distance. But that didn't matter to Ronald Lutz, Landisville, who took the top award in both categories with a distance spit of 23 feet, 5 inches. Second in the distance spit was Jay Fry, Conestoga R2. It was said that the men had practiced for the event for three weeks.

Men dominated the potato picking despite competition from the women. Galen Diebler, Halifax, won the championship round, with John Warke, Kutztown, coming in a close second.

Waking up anyone who might have dozed off, the hog callers competed for two young pigs' attention, trying to get some reaction for their vocal efforts. Champion hog caller was Atlee Keefer, York Springs R2, with John Warke again placing second.

And the arena turned into a wild circus of running pigs and chasing humans as the greased pig chase quickly got underway. Eager contestants bounded from the stands as all tore off after the nimble pigs. Robert Beiler,Gap; and Bryan Weaver, Collegeville, split the prize of $10 for being the first to capture a loose animal.

Putting a cap on the evening was a square dance, with the music provided by the Neighbor-Tones, from Chambersburg.

inadequately bonded. The problem appears to be finding a plan which will meet the approval of all concerned.

"I hope everyone will work together to get a good security plan in the state of Pennsylvania," said Eastern's public relations manager, Lisle Dutton. The cooperative wants to work with not only legislators and Department of Agriculture officials, but with other dairy co-ops and farm organizations as well.

The bonding dilemma is widely recognized, and all of the farm organizations in the state have expressed concern. Pennsylvania's Secretary of Agriculture, Penrose Hallowell, who attended Eastern's breakfast, has mentioned on several occasions that he regards inadequate bonding to be a significant problem. Although his Department is focusing attention on the situation, he is waiting for more information from those directly involved.

Eastern, with all of its directors present for the legislative get-together, made it clear on Monday that they want to get the ball rolling.

Two events scheduled by Holstein breeders

FLEMINGTON, N.J. – A "Cow Clinic," sponsored by the New Jersey Holstein Association, and a Holstein film night, arranged by the local Holstein association, are on the calendar for mid-March, reports Howard J. Sutton, Fairmount, president of the Central Jersey Holstein Association.

The state-sponsored "Cow Clinic," now an annual event, will be held on Wednesday, March 14, at the Andover Firehouse on Route 206. To begin at 10:30 am, the program will feature the most recent genetic data available on the Holstein breed, as well as the latest information on functional type.

Speakers will be James Pound, director of the National Holstein Association's Field Division, Brattleboro, Vt. and Clarence Stauffer, Ephrata, program director for New Jersey-Pennsylvania.

Following lunch, the group will move to nearby Tranquility Farm. Demonstrations and an opportunity to try their hand at evaluating type and selecting mates for cows will be featured on the afternoon program, says Sutton. Meeting will conclude at 8 pm.

The Holstein film night, scheduled by the Central Jersey Holstein Association, will be held on Friday, March 16, 8 pm, in Hunterdon's Extension Center. An excellent film, "A Veterinarian Looks at Functional Type," will be presented, as well as slide talks, "Solving The Pedigree Puzzle," and "Judging Holstein Cattle."

Anyone interested in Holstein cattle, young or old, are invited to attend the film night program. Originally planned for 4-H and FFA members, the program should be of interest to Holstein breeders of all ages, says Sutton. The film program will be free of charge.

Recycle cans for money

PHILADELPHIA - The Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company has increased from 17 cents to 20 cents per pound the amount it pays the public for recycling aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum at its over 850 nationwide recycling locations including regular mobile recycling stops in Pennsylvania.

Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company pays 20 cents per pound for all-aluminum such as pie plates, foil, frozen food and dinner trays and dip, pudding and meat containers. Certain other items, including aluminum siding, gutters, storm door and window frames, and lawn furniture tubing are also worth 20 cents per pound. This aluminum must be free of all foreign materials, cut to lengths not exceeding three feet and should not be mixed with cans.

Additional information regarding Reynolds aluminum recycling locations in Pennsylvania is available by calling toll-free 1-800-228-2525.

Reynolds schedule of local recycling locations are:

Maple Glen — Genuardi's Super Market (Welsh and Norristown Road) Saturday, March 3, 17 and 31; from 10 to 11 a.m.

Whitehall — Whitehall Mall, Wednesday, March 28, from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

York — Delco Shopping Mall (Carlisle Road and Route 74) Thursday, March 1 and 15; from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

edge at the cutting surface. "They are all bowed and are designed to be so," he explained.

Moving on to gathering chains, Brownlee emphasized that their speed must be properly matched to the ground speed of the implement. Problems can occur with both over and under running of the chains.

Should gathering chains be oiled?

This is a pro and con question, Brownlee admitted, but if it can be done safely, he recommends it. He emphasizes, however, that instructions give proper warning that no part of the machine should be serviced while in motion, and recognizes the dilemma this poses with gathering chains. In any case, if a farmer chooses to oil the chains, Brownlee says it's best to do so when they're warm from operation so that the oil can penetrate. Oiling chains in the morning when they're cold isn't doing much good, he added. Equally important is that the chains must be oiled regularly if they're going to be lubricated at all. Oiled chains can be expected to last longer, Brownlee said, once again stressing the safety factor involved.

Gregory named to Bucks Co. Extension

LITITZ – Debra A. Gregory has been appointed to Penn State's Cooperative Extension Service staff as an assistant Extension agent – home economics and assigned to Bucks County, effective March 1.

Dr. Thomas B King, Penn State associate dean for Extension, points out that Miss Gregory is conducting educational programs for youth and adults in the area of family living.

Her position was made possible by funds appropriated by the Bucks County Board of Commissioners. She fills the vacancy on the Bucks County Extension staff created by the recent resignation of Carol Munson.

A native of Lititz, Miss Gregory prepared for college at the Warwick High School and received a bachelor of science degree in home economics education from Penn State in 1976.

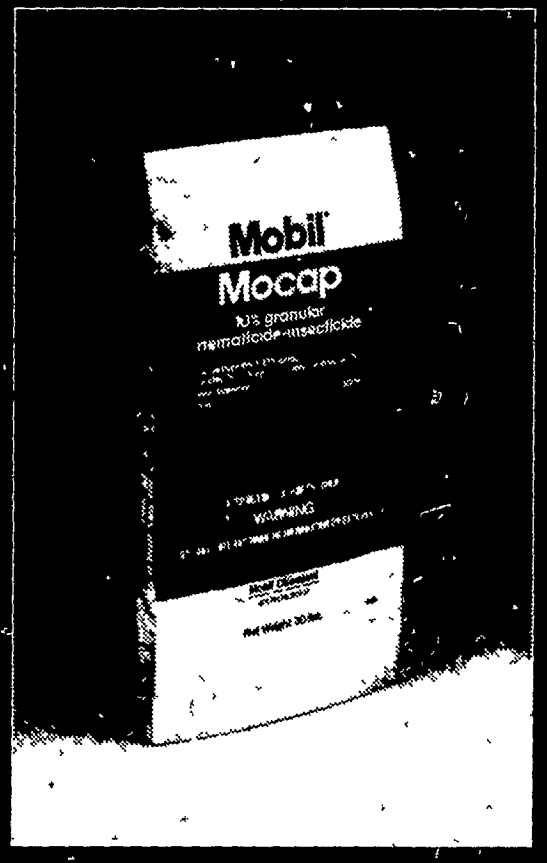
Prior to her appointment to the Extension Service staff, she was a home economics teacher in the Bradford Area and Bristol Township School Districts.

Miss Gregory is a member of the American Home Economics Association, Lancaster County Home Economics Association, and Farm Women's Society.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Gregory, Lititz.

In Bucks County, she is associated with County Extension Director Richard A. Bailey with offices in the Neshaminy Manor Center, Doylestown.

How to protect your corn from cutworms, wireworms, nematodes and rootworms for the least money.



Only one corn insecticide is labeled for protection against the four major soil pests. Only Mocap® insecticide protects against cutworms, wireworms, nematodes* and rootworms.

You'd probably expect to pay extra for the extra protection you get with Mocap. But according to an independent survey, growers who used Mocap paid less per acre than growers using any other insecticide.

With Mocap 10% granular formulation, you'll get greater surface area coverage and reduced exposure to chemicals. There's also less risk that the insects will escape coverage.

And better protection means greater potential for increased yields.

Ask your dealer.

Ask the man who can be objective—the man who sells several different kinds of insecticides. He'll tell you that Mocap granular is formulated on clay, not on sand. That means it won't be abrasive to your equipment—and it won't run through the hopper gates like sand. It flows evenly into and out of the hoppers without bridging and without caking on the rotors.

Your dealer can also help you compare the effectiveness, price and easy handling of Mocap to any other insecticide he sells. So ask him about Mocap insecticide.

Or just do this. Tell him you want the broadest protection for the least money. And see what he gives you.

Dairy breeding management meeting set

NEW HOLLAND - On Tuesday, March 13, 1979, the Garden Spot Young Farmers will sponsor a Dairy Breeding Management meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the agriculture classroom of the Garden Spot High School in New Holland. Emphasis for the meeting will be the use of Animal Analysis Association analysis to evaluate sires and dams to plan breeding programs. Charles Clark from aAa will be the speaker.

Animal Analysis used the approach to analyzing a cow's qualities and weaknesses; and many of the stud services have their bulls rated for use in this system of mating bulls to cows. This system places emphasis on understanding the skeletal structure, bone type, and anatomy of the cow to do a better job of selecting sires.

Any local dairyman is welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served. For further information regarding the meeting, contact Donald M. Robinson, adult farmer advisor, Eastern Lancaster County School District, 717-354-0480.

Dairy Club meets

OBELISK – The Western Montgomery Berks 4-H Dairy Club held their monthly meeting at the home of Jack Seasholtz, Obelisk, on March 1st. Twenty-one members attended.

The topic of the meeting was "Judging Dairy Animals" presented by 4-H Leader Jerry Stauffer.

The next meeting will be on March 29th, 7:30 p.m. at the home of Ronald and Pam Longacre, 4-H members, Route 100, Hereford.

York predicts higher dairy income

ALLENTOWN - Dairy farmers selling milk to LeHi Valley Cooperative Farmers are expected to receive $5000 additional gross income in southeastern Pennsylvania for the year 1979 over the 1978 level, according to John C. York, vice president of member relations.

In predicting the increase in farm milk prices, York believes the average dairyman will receive about 75 cents per hundredweight (cwt.) more for his milk in 1979 over 1978. The 1978 prices averaged $10.92 per cwt. compared with the expected 1979 price of about $11.70 per cwt. less customary deductions for hauling, marketing, and advertising. The 75 cents expected increase in prices paid to LeHi members will generate about $13.50 per day added gross income. The average dairy farmer member of LeHi produces about 660,000 lbs. of milk annually. Production rates per member charge in different regions of the state as well as between members within regions. The production per member in this area of the state is about the average for the cooperative.

"The increase in gross income of dairy farmer members of LeHi does not necessarily mean farmers will have more net income. Farm costs are rising and dairymen will have to spend more money for equipment, energy, building, and family living items. However, an increase in farm income will help bolster the urban economy because farmers put most of the money back into circulation", according to York.

John York

LeHi Dairy Cooperative purchases milk from farmers who reside in an area covering 30 counties of southcentral, central, and southeastern Pennsylvania. The co-op, which exceeds 110 million dollars annual business sales, processes milk in three Pennsylvania plants; Schuylkill Haven, Allentown, and Lansdale. It is Pennsylvania's one complete cooperative having facilities to receive, process, and market all of its member's milk. Pennsylvania ranks 4th to 5th in milk production in the union and is second in ice cream production, concludes York.

Consumer eating trends discussed

By JOAN LIESAU

UNIVERSITY PARK - It looks as if the number of beef servings per household is declining according to statistics presented by Dr. Burdette C. Breidenstein at the Pennsylvania Livestock Day held at the Pennsylvania State University on March 2nd.

Breidenstein, Meats Industry Consultant, Oklahoma City, Okla., indicated that the number of beef servings "stayed about the same" but there was less quantity being served.

Last year, during the months of April, May and June, Breidenstein said beef consumed was decreased considerably. Why? Because of the high price of beef at the grocery counter.

Breindenstein reported from a 10 year survey that in 1967-1968 ground beef was only a small portion of the consumers food dollars in relation tc beef cuts. In 1975 "ground beef went past and is still rising" in purchases over the beef cuts.

Steaks have greatly increased in popularity also. Breidenstein felt this "reflected the fact that people view steaks as a convenience item."

The study also showed that meat consumption tapers on weekends, and the trend is tc a smaller, older household which is "serving food in a less formal fashion." Along with steaks being bought as more of a convenience item, casseroles are becoming a popular trend.

Several proposals were suggested by Breidenstein. One of which was to tie in with this casserole trend to sell more beef. He also felt the promotion of steak as a "fast food" was the direction the industry should take. Because of the less "formal fashion" of dining in the home, Breidenstein said we must "maintain and guard the roast business."

Eating away from home is taking a big chunk of the farm value of beef. The meats consultant reported 26 to 27 per cent was being consumed outside the home. "Most people look at beef as being high in cholesterol" he said "but the amount is very, very similar when you compare it to fish or poultry."

Boxed beef is one of the more efficient ways of distributing beef for the industry. Products are taken from swinging carcass form and cut into sub primal forms (bottom butt, tenderloin, etc.). "Boxed beef permits us to distribute this industry's product where it has the most appeal.

Other advantages to boxed beef are that when the air is evacuated in packaging "you eliminate the weight loss from water." A major part of the bone and fat are also removed, making a "significant advantage to the industry."

Breidenstein eluded to a new concept in meat reporting called Electronic Meat Reporting, because about only 15 per cent of the beef is being sold is said to be reported. Diversities of conditions of a sale make it difficult for accurate reporting.

Breidenstein said that hearings this year, however, showed "no suggestion of inconsistent market reporting" to form the basis of proposed legislation on market reporting.

Dairy tour planned

LANCASTER — The Lancaster County Holstein Club will be touring dairy farms in New Jersey on Tuesday, March 20. Any Holstein Club member interested in participating is asked to contact Melvin Eby, Conestoga R2, phone 768-3615. The deadline for registration is March 14.

The cost of the tour will be $16 per person, which includes an evening meal. It's asked that participants bring their own lunch along.

The tour will leave the Lancaster Farm and Home Center at 8 a.m., March 20, and return by around 8:30 p.m. Payment for the tour should be made payable to the Lancaster County Holstein Club.

Poultry meeting reveals

LANCASTER — An educational poultry meeting will be held at the Farm and Home Center, here, on Thursday evening (March 15) with a representative of MacDonald's Restaurants on hand as one of three guest speakers. Discussions can be expected to center on marketing, promotion, advertising, and nutrition. All poultrymen from Lancaster County and surrounding areas are invited to attend.

The meting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Aside from Kenneth Tannenhill, representing MacDonald's, the educational program will feature Christine Bushway of the American Egg Board and Allon Lefever of Victor F. Weaver, Inc.

According to Lancaster County Agent Jay Irwin, who specializes in poultry, the topics of discussion should be of great interest to area poultrymen. "The produer should know what's happening to his product," Irwin comments.

Tannenhill's presentation is entitled: "Who consumes our products and why?" Miss Bushway will tell why "Egg promotion is paying off" and Lefever will give reasons for "Broiler consumption is up."

Ag delegation to meet with Walker

LANCASTER - Twelve representatives of the Lancaster County Farmers Association will be meeting with Congressman Robert Walker in Washington D.C. on March 13th and 14th.

The delegation will discuss agricultural issues which are being discussed with the legislature.

On March 14th the group will host the Congressman at a banquet sponsored by the Pennsylvania Farmers Association.

Our Job Is To Get The Most Out Of Your Home-Grown Feed

The most expensive feeding program is not always the most profitable. And, the cheapest often costs more than it's worth. The best program gets the most possible mileage out of the feeds you grow at home, and results in the lowest possible off-farm expense. Seasons change, nutritional needs change, and we'll help you meet these needs with soundly planned feed programs. They'll take some of the guesswork out of stretching your forages and grains. We offer this service free, because it helps both of us.

Plant soybeans with a growing advantage for greater return on investment.

A3585

Plant Variety Protection #7700059

A3585 maturity is Group III. It is about 3-inches shorter than Williams and has better standability. Seedling emergence is one of the strongest available. A3585 is resistant to purple stain and tolerant to pod and stem blight and leaf diseases. Plants mature evenly for easy harvest. Asgrow Research 2-year performance tests in Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska show an average yield advantage for A3585 over Williams of 3.0 B/A. 2 1978 New Jersey State tests of Group III soybeans. Asgrow A 3585 tied for second highest yield-topped only by another Asgrow variety by .4/bu/acre. A 3585 had a 9.3 bu. advantage over Williams.

but Agway research has shown that their nutrient requirements may vary significantly Agway can now offer feeding programs tailored to many commercial layer strains.

It has been well established that meat birds have different nutrient requirements than layers *Now, Agway research has gone a step farther It has demonstrated that different strains of the same breed of commercial layers have different nutrient requirements The trials show that production can be improved with a feeding program that's tailored to the needs of a particular strain.

When three commercial strains of the same breed were tested on two Agway feeding programs, here's what happened

PERCENT HEN-DAY PRODUCTION DURING A 392-DAY LAYING TRIAL

Agway Feeding Program	Same Breed, Commercial Strain
	A	B	C
I	67 3	65 5	72.3
II	71 5	70 7	70 0

A little pencil work makes it apparent that the difference in total production in one of today's large commercial houses can add up to thousands of dozens of eggs during the laying period of a given strain

Agway research is continuing to develop feeding programs that provide, without excesses, the nutrients your favorite strain needs for optimum production Such research will help you, as a commercial producer, bring more eggs to market at a cost that will provide you a greater return

If you would like to know more about the possibilities of increased production through a tailored Agway feeding program, contact your Agway Poultry Enterprise Serviceperson As a first step, call your local Agway store

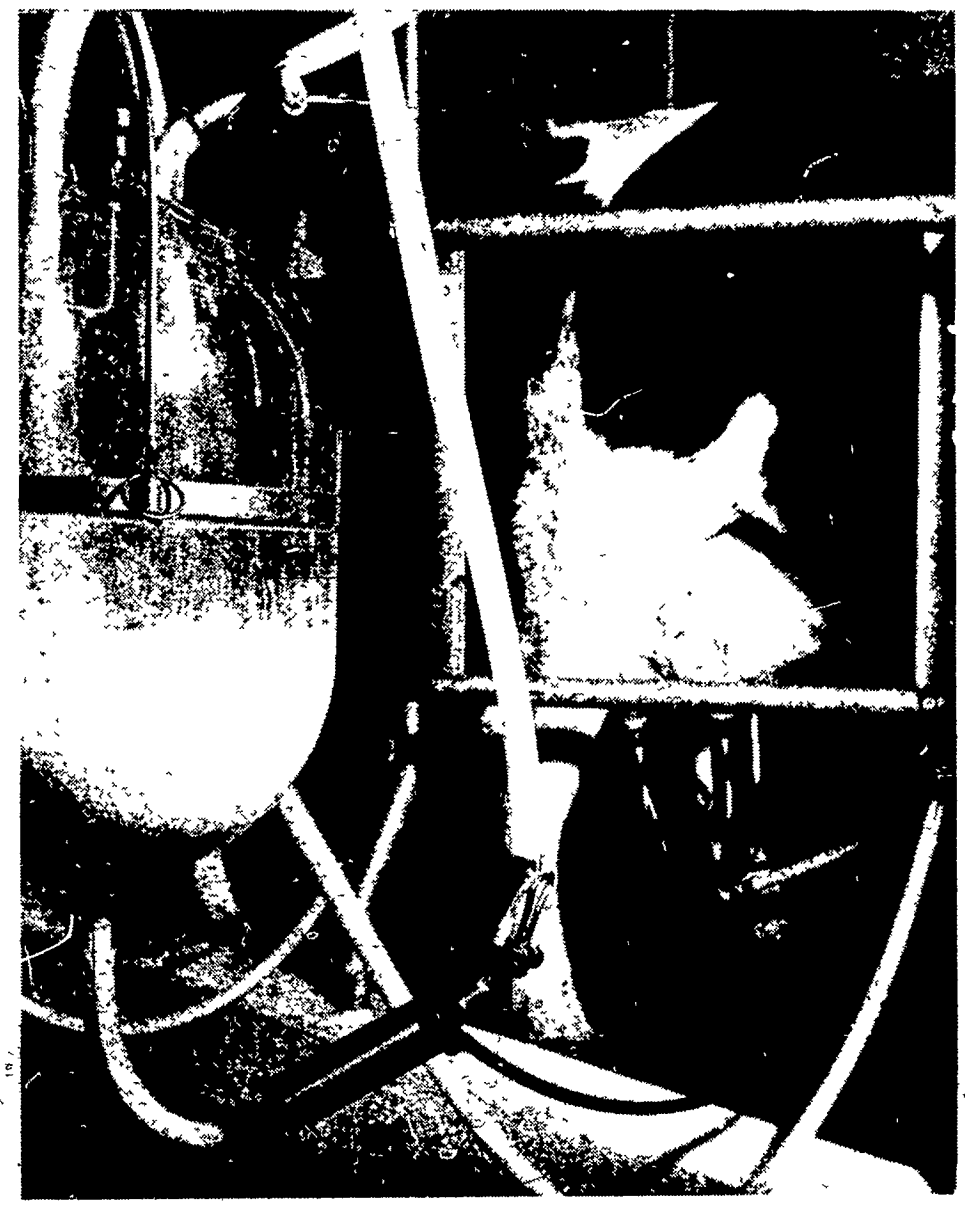
Increase the check your milking string delivers with WAYNE 38% DARI-BLEN



Your milking string can deliver a bigger check - with the help of Wayne 38% Dari-Blen.

To make milk, a cow needs protein. After each feeding, she keeps working on milk production only as long as the nutrients keep working for her. And protein is the key.

With Wayne Dari-Blen 38 percent supplement, you get protein from as many as eight different sources. As one source is used up the next carries on, like a relay team. Result: Dari-Blen feeding has boosted production in many herds as much as 20%.

WAYNE FEEDS — WAYNE ANIMAL HEALTH AIDS

Talk to one of the Wayne Feed dealers listed below about increasing the check your milking string delivers. Ask him too, about Wayne Min-a-Lyte, and how it can be used in a custom formulated mineral mix for forage feeding programs.

Lancaster Co. Dairy Goat club to form

By KENDACE BORRY

PEQUEA — Dairy goat owners of Lancaster County have the opportunity to band together to learn more and share their experiences next week.

Due to increased interest in dairy goats in the area, the first meeting of the Lancaster County Dairy Goat Club will be held March 14 at the Farm and Home Center, Lancaster, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The purpose of the club is to promote interest in dairy goats in Lancaster County and to distribute information to goat owners. Anyone who presently owns goats or would like to own dairy goats is enocuraged to attend, according to organizational leader Mrs.Pat Kauffman, Pequea R1. Suggestions for discussion topics and domonstrations at coming meetings will be sought. The club will be used to help create unity among goat owners, give a channel to pass information between owners, and help plot the growth of the dairy goat industry.

At the same time, a 4-H dairy goat club will be started that will be open to all youngsters 8 to 18 years of age. Youth and their parents that would like to join are urged to attend the first meeting of the Lancaster County Dairy Goat Club. The two clubs will be operated jointly.

"Goats are a good pet and an interesting animal," Mrs. Kauffman stated. "If you have a back yard, they're less expensive than a dog to keep, and they're not expensive to buy, if you use grade goats, and in the club you will be able to."

She has owned goats for six years, the first one being a present from her father. Now she owns 40 goats, mostly grades with a reg. Toggenburg buck. She uses the animals for milk production, and ships the milk to Natural-Lee, Inc., New Freedom. "Goat milk is becoming more popular," she noted. "People may get them as a pet and then find that they are a good way to get banks cleaned as well as being an endearing animal. They're a challenge and their offspring are cute."

She told that she would like to see even those people with one goat or those just interested in the animal to come and talk to other goat owners. "There is a possisbility that we may be able to combine our dairy goat 4-H roundup with one of the local fairs," she added. Many plans will be discussed at the meeting.

For more information about the group, one can call the Lancaster County Extension Office in Lancaster at 717-394-6851.

Mrs. Pat Kauffman poses with a few of her goats at her home near Pequea. She will be the organizational leader of the new Dairy Goat Club.

Agway Insurance announces

A new health plan providing a million-dollar maximum benefit

The skyrocketing cost of medical care is a bitter pill to swallow.

Make sure you and your family have protection against a potential financial disaster due to accident or illness by investigating Agway's new health/life insurance plan. It provides a $1 million maximum benefit intended to keep pace with inflation. This plan is designed exclusively for agricultural people and their families who are not eligible for Medicare. It includes co-insurance and a deductible to help limit the cost to participants.

Here are some features you should examine:

- Coverage for second opinion on surgery paid at 100%
- Automatic inflation adjustment for the expense of semiprivate hospital room
- Full coverage up to $100 for minor accidents
- 100% of covered expenses above the "stop loss"
- Basic life and accidental death and dismemberment benefits, double for farm-related accidental death

Strong medicine you can afford

The cost of this group health-insurance plan reflects the economics of mass purchasing. There are approximately 75,000 persons participating. Covered medical expenses include all those prescribed by a doctor for an accident or sickness, and this new plan pays 100% of covered expenses after you reach the "stop loss" of $2450.00, including the deductible.

You make the decision

Take a few minutes to review your current medical insurance. Then compare it against this new Agway plan. We believe the new plan from Agway Insurance may improve your coverage. Just clip and mail this coupon for the full facts.

Record prices for Angus paid

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. - Record high prices are being paid for Angus cattle sold at auction. During the first third of the 1979 fiscal year, prices have averaged $1184 and this has helped stimulate a 12.8 per cent increase in registrations of purebred Angus, reports Dr. C. K. Allen, executive vice-president of the American Angus Association.

For the first four months of fiscal 1979 (October through January) the average price of all registered bulls sold at auction was $1545 compared with $968 for the same period a year ago. All females sold at auction averaged $1044, compared with $656 a year earlier. This pushed the average of all cattle (bulls and females) sold at auction to $1184 compared with $766 in 1978.

If this trend continues, or even if prices hold at present levels, it will mark the first time in Angus history that the average price of all cattle sold at auction has exceeded $1000. The highest average price ever paid for Angus cattle during an Association fiscal year was $916 in 1951 the year that federal price ceilings on cattle were lifted. The lowest average was $92 per head at the depth of the depression in 1932. In 1978 the average of all Angus sold at auction was $842.

Registrations of Angus cattle during the first five months of the 1979 fiscal year (October through February) were up 12.8 per cent. Transfers, or sales of purebred Angus, were also up sharply.

In January the average price of all bulls sold at auction figured $1854 per head while females averaged $1467. The average price for both bulls and heifers combined in January was $1676 per head.

New film explains rotary combining

NEW HOLLAND – A new animated motion picture describing the principles involved in the rotary combine concept, has been released by Sperry New Holland.

The six-minute film features "The Kernel," a grain-like character who travels through the inner mechanism of a Sperry New Holland combine. The Kernel traces the flow of crop and explains the functions of various components along the way.

Because centrifugal force plays such an important role in rotary threshing, The Kernel also explains, very graphically, just how centrifugal force works.

The motion picture has been added to "The Breakthrough Combine," a fifteen-minute film that describes the TR70 and presents the views of farmers who have been using these unique machines in their farming operations.

A print of the film may be borrowed without charge by ordering well in advance of the show date desired. Write to: Venard Films, Box 1332, Peoria, IL 61601 to order a print.

your sow is a pig factory

A sow has the tremendous job of converting feed into big litters of thrifty pigs twice a year. She must supply enough milk to give her pigs a good start in life and build herself up to perform this task again.

Nature has given the sow a safety valve . . . the ability to resorb developing embryos if she doesn't get proper care and nutrition. Studies show 20% to 33% of all pig embryos conceived are resorbed during gestation Pig embryos grow fast. During the last 12 weeks of gestation, each healthy embryo increases in size 800 times!

Years of continuous Purina Research have built and improved Purina Sow Chow . . . a highly-fortified ration that gives a sow the nutrients she needs during gestation and nursing.

Sows that farrow and raise big litters will make more money for you That's why thousands of hogmen follow Purina's Sow Feeding and Management Program to help them send eight and nine pigs per litter to market Let us tell you more about it.

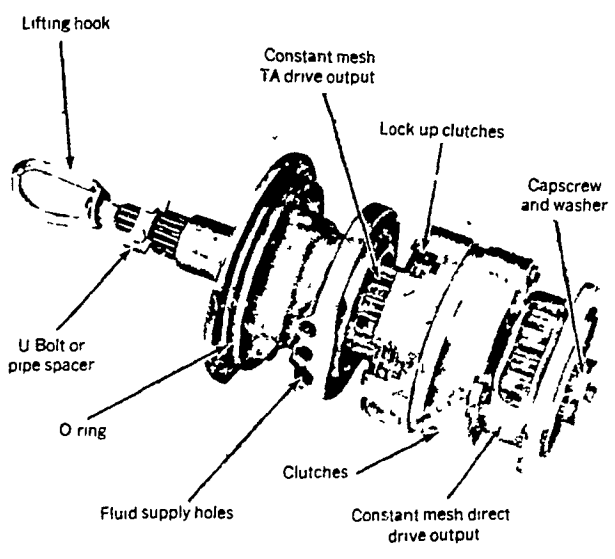
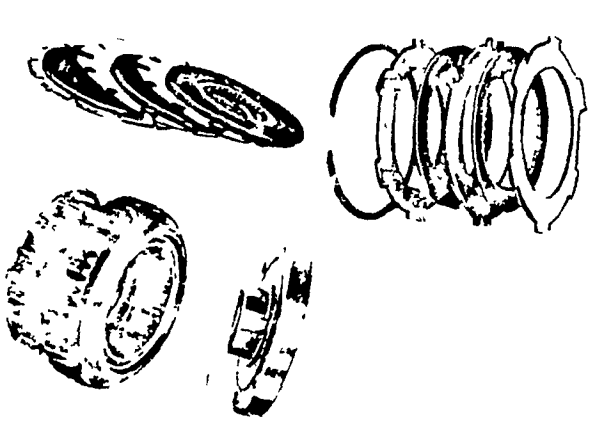
GOT TORQUE AMPLIFIER, CLUTCH AND PRESSURE PLATE PROBLEMS WITH YOUR IH TRACTORS?

There is a company in the West that has been rebuilding T A units for several years now and having excellent results The basic reason for their success is the sprag clutch they use In the areas where they have been selling, they even have IH dealers that use this unit almost entirely

(1) They feel this sprag clutch is giving less problems than even IH's new beefed up unit because of the design of the sprags
(2) This unit can be bought as individual parts which is many times all you need or as a complete renewed unit ready to set in your tractor
(3) They have a warranty up to 2000 hrs , or 3 years

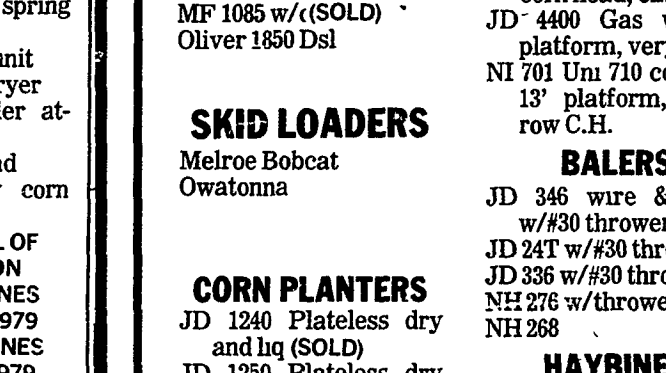


Complete assembly exchanged
$525.00



The parts you normally need to rebuild your own assembly. Sprag kit includes sprag gear & carrier. Clutch pack IH No. 75036091 and bushing or sleeve to push in housing $330.00

HOW THE PCE SPRAG CLUTCH WORKS



NO "ROLL-OVER" DESIGN

Under extreme overload conditions beyond the designed torque rating of the clutch, the new sprag retainer configuration results in a positive sprag-to-sprag abutment with further sprag motion being prevented by the contact of the flank of one sprag against the flank of the next This positive stop limits sprag roll This protects the clutch against damage

Our renewed clutch discs and pressure plates for your main clutch are really a good deal and would pass for original parts

No. 384395R Dynalife SMTA to 966 . . . . . $80.00 exc.
No. 393117R Dynalife 1066-1468 . . . . . $97.00 exc.

Save 10% On Clutch Parts Ordered With TA Parts.
We Ship via UPS or Bus Line.

Our T.A. parts are original I.H. parts renewed to use the sprag clutch shown on our folder. This sprag is wider than the original and has more sprags and cannot roll over. This unit is warranted up to 3 years.

If you want more information write me and I will get the literature to you. Raymond B. Leaman, RD #1, Willow Street, Penna. 17584.

The case 4-Wheel Drive

MR. FARMER -
HERE IS SOME STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT 4-WHEEL DRIVE TRACTORS -

BEFORE YOU INVEST IN A 4-WHEELER, THERE ARE CERTAIN DIFFERENCES BETWEEN ARTICULATED (BEND-IN-THE-MIDDLE) AND case 4 WAY SELECT STEERING PERFORMANCE YOU SHOULD KNOW.

FRONT WHEEL STEER. 4-way steering makes the big difference When you select front wheel steer only, the 2870 handles much like your present 2-wheeler You don't have to learn all over again Great for the majority of your field work including row crops

REAR STEER. Hooking up to an implement? You can steer with the rear wheels only so the drawbar or 3-point hitch goes where you want it to go Use it as well to overcome implement side draft

CRAB STEER. Working on hillsides or levees? Switch to crab steer on-the go to counteract side drift Fronts and rears steer in the same direction Also useful in muddy fields since it creates four separate wheel tracks Thus providing optimum traction for all four driving wheels

COORDINATED. Want to make short full power turns at the headlands? Flip the selective steering lever to coordinated steering for a tight 17½ foot turning radius Some articulated 4WD require up to 26 ft

ARTICULATED DESIGN TRACTOR ARE MANUFACTURED FOR CONSTRUCTION ROADS, MINES, QUARRIES AND THE WOODS.

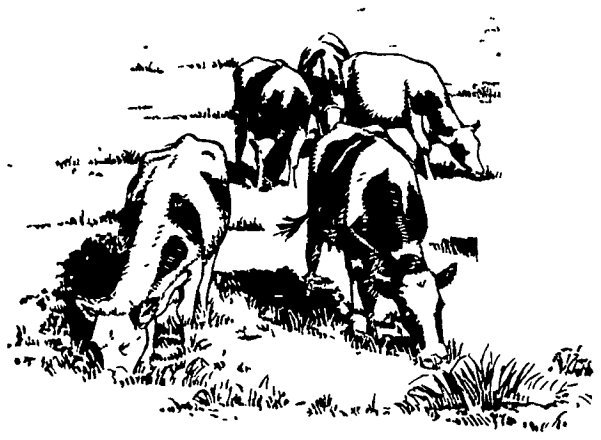
A.B.C.#5

A NON-TOXIC FEED ADDITIVE FOR DAIRY THAT PUTS AN OLD CONCEPT TO NEW USE.



New, Improved A.B.C.#5 Probiotic Formula Gives Proven Benefits . . .

Field tested by producers resulting in:

- Higher Milk Production
- Promotes Better Herd Health

The concept...

Around the turn of the century, it was discovered that the digestive tract is constantly inhabited with a variety of micro-organisms, both good and bad, called the normal flora of the intestinal tract.

Since animals are always under stress from such conditions as weather, change in feed, shipping, weaning, change in environment, oral antibiotic treatment, and social stresses such as overcrowding — some of the good micro-organisms known as Lactobacillus quickly decrease in number, allowing for the rapid growth of non-beneficial bacteria.

The result...

This disruption of the "natural" balance of normal flora in the animals' intestines can result in a variety of diseases (enteric and respiratory), poor feed conversion, loss of gain, higher feed costs, and generally, animals that are not doing well.

The New Answer...

A.B.C. #5 revives and expands on the old concept of using live, beneficial micro-organisms to aid in maintaining the "natural" balance of intestinal micro-flora.

WHY IS A.B.C. #5 THE NATURAL WAY?

Unlike antibiotics and antibacterials, A.B.C. #5 maintains the balance of intestinal micro-flora "naturally" by supplying good organisms — Lactobacillus — in the animal's diet.

HOMESTEAD NOTES

Breakfast is a learning experience

Hazel Stauffer, one of the Farm Women, eats with the youngsters.

Naomi Spahr and Hazel Stauffer make preparations for breakfast so that their "helpers" can begin to work.

By SALLY BAIR
Staff Writer

For Farm Women Society 19, happiness is serving breakfast once a week to students in the special education class at Centerville Elementary School in the Hempfield School District.

Acting on their motto, "For Happiness," members take turns visiting the class and helping the children prepare and serve breakfast, and the result is "a lot of happiness" for the 15 children in the class.

According to Mrs. Earl Stauffer, East Petersburg, who first coordinated the project when it began last year, the Society began serving breakfast at the request of Society member Ruth Heisey, Landisville, who taught the class for 18 years until her retirement last year.

Miss Heisey recalled, "The aide and I had talked about getting some kind of program started, and we had thought how important it is for the children to have a good start on the day with breakfast. We also recognized that there were many opportunities for teaching through breakfast."

The Farm Women first became involved with the special education class at Centerville by sponsoring a Christmas party for the class. Then when they were looking for a project for the statewide "happiness" project, it seemed logical to turn there again, at Miss Heisey's suggestion.

The program has proven beneficial to all concerned. Mrs. Stauffer says, "Some children come without breakfast and we want to teach what a good breakfast is. We try to keep it simple and have foods which their mothers would have on hand. We also try to teach about good food.

"It is a time for socializing for the children. They are learning good table manners, and we can see an improvement from last year in the students who are still here."

Miss Heisey added, "They learned a lot as they learned to enjoy proper food. They learned to relate to somebody other than the teacher, and they got a sense of feeling 'we are important.' They also learned to sit down and stay at the table until they are excused, and they learned better manners." She noted that they could see how to set an attractive table.

Breakfast is served each Thursday, and menus are sent home with the children in advance so the parents know what they will have. Some children admitted to having a little breakfast before leaving home, but they all ate with gusto.

On breakfast day the children have assignments which they carry out with great efficiency. Mrs. Stauffer commented, "When we first started doing this they didn't go ahead with the work. Now they get right in and get set up."

There is an arrangements committee whose work was complete when the group arrived. They arranged the tables, put out the brightly colored placemats and handled seating.

Once the two Farm Women arrived on the scene, the "cook's helpers" went into action. Their first job was to count the number having breakfast and go to the cafeteria for the proper bowls and utensils. Then they helped distribute the food.

The meal may be simple, but nutritious: instant oatmeal, milk and tangerines. The cook's helpers carried the milk to the tables, passed out the tangerines and oatmeal packets, and one child escorted the Farm Women to the room down the hall where there was a stove for heating water.

Once the food was in place, all the children were called to take their places, and the Farm Women members, the teachers were spread among the three tables.

After a group prayer for the food, and an individual prayer, the children dug in. There was lively conversation and polite requests for more. Some giggling and a lot of chatter continued throughout the meal.

The children enjoyed the opening of individual packets of oatmeal and making their own breakfast, with teacher Carol Binkley and Society 19 president Mrs. Naomi Spahr pouring the hot water in the bowls. Learning was incorporated, as the students were shown how to get the tangerines opened for eating, with a minimun of squirting. Despite some messiness with the fruit, the children seemed to enjoy them.

Menus vary from week to week, with the final selection dependent upon those Farm Women responsible for that week. Mrs. Stauffer noted that when the project was first started, sample menus were prepared so that all members would know what was being served. Naomi Spahr, new coordinator of the project, said she plans to begin coordinating menus to offer the children greater variety. The children have been treated to breakfasts like scrambled eggs, french toast and pancakes. With a more complicated menu, Miss Binkley said the helpers work on more complicated chores such as breaking eggs and making toast.

Miss Binkley is enthusiastic about the project, saying that the breakfast program has several benefits for the students. "It teaches them good manners and the proper place settings. They also learned balanced nutrition with food groups." Miss Binkley was an aide for a half year before assuming the full time position.

Professional aide Diana Bierer shares the good feelings, "The program does a lot for kids. They learn to cooperate, and they all get excited when it's breakfast day."

One child commented, "I like to set the table and be a cook's helper." Cleaning up was not a favorite job of hers, she said. Another said with a smile, "I like it when we have oatmeal." Still another added that he liked tangerines better than bananas.

When the meal is completed, another committee takes over the chore of cleaning up. Dishes are washed in the classroom before being returned to the kitchen for the dishwasher to complete the job.

As assembly line quickly materializes with rinsers, washers and dryers. The job is easily completed, with a lot of friendly interaction among the students, and a minimum of supervision from the adults. Other students were responsible for returning the tables to their permanent position and the rest went to work on school papers.

Before visitors left, the children requested that they be allowed to sing a song for them. They were treated to a preview of the songs they will present later in a Spring program.

Society president Mrs. Spahr says, "The women enjoy it. They've said they come away feeling like they've gotten more than they've given."

For their efforts, Society 19 received first place award for the county in the state-sponsored contest for community service work. Every one of the 36 members participated, with those who were unable to go to the school contributing funds to help with the breakfast.

Mrs. Stauffer summed up their feelings, "I really feel it is a worthwhile project. I was very pleased last year. We have all enjoyed it. It is a two-way street and we got a lot of satisfaction from it."

"Tremendous" is the word Ray G. Mentzer, Centerville elementary School principal, used to describe the program. "I think it is a fine program because it is teaching the children nutrition as well as manners. We appreciate the way the Farm Women go ahead with it."

For everyone, the program is a learning and growing experience. "For Happiness" is not an idle phrase with Farm Women Society 19; it is being acted out at Centerville Elementary School each week.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

A few weeks ago I attended a small luncheon in the apartment of a friend. The table was beautifully set with the Valentine theme in mind. We had chatted amiably for an hour or so when one of the ladies blurted out, "Ida, I do believe you know everybody." Now of course that isn't true. But if you've lived fifty years in the same area and have a good memory plus an interest in history, one might give that impression.

Being interested in History has been easy for me as my ancestors were also concerned and fascinated about their beginnings. My Grandfather Shreiner paid a lady to trace his family to Landau, Germany. And the pages of information took me days to put into charge form so that I could make sense out of it. My Grandfather Landis has had his family traced by a genealogist and a book is printed showing their origin in Switzerland.

Many people in housing development have recently come to our county because of their jobs in industry. Therefore, they are surprised to meet a native and feel that you are unique. As long as one only attends farm meetings, one only meets others who are also natives. But at school and church functions, things are different as most people are from "out of state." When I mention that I live on a farm, many will then remember visits to a grandparent's farm as a child, others will bring up the topic of gardening. That is a subject that I could talk about for hours as I've spent so many enjoyable hours in my own garden.

A few years back, almost all the farms north of Lancaster, belong to near or distant relatives of mine. Now these same farms have sprouted four large housing developments and there is no end in sight.

Farm Worker's Week slated

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Farm families across the nation will be celebrating Farm Worker Week, April 30th through May 6th, 1979, recognizing that farm families do 75 per cent of U.S. farm work. The remaining 25 per cent is done by the hired farm worker force.

Agriculture is unique in that the farm family and the people they hire to help often work together, doing the same job, under the same conditions.

American Agri-Women, (AAW) a national coalition of farm and ranch women's organizations, applauds the labor contribution of both the hired farm worker force and farm families. Both are components in a food system which produces the most abundant, wholesome, varied food in the world.

AAW salutes the achievement of America's farm families and the 2.8 million hired farm workers, including America's 213,000 migrant farm workers.

American Agri-Women is working to dispel myths surrounding agricultural labor, including wages, working conditions, housing, benefits, employer-employee relations, and for federal legislation guaranteeing workers' right to choose which union, if any, is to represent them through properly-supervised secret ballot elections.

Get your ag loan from the Friendly First — the bank that understands farming.

To help modern farmers solve their unique and complex money problems, a bank has to first develop a deep understanding of farming as a way of life. The First National Bank of Strasburg has done just that — through over 110 years of service to individuals in all areas of agriculture.

The Friendly First's Agricultural Loan Division is headed by Bob Badger. He will gladly sit down with you and work out a loan package that gives you exactly what you need. And Bob will use the Friendly First's flexible payment schedules to make sure you get a loan you can live with...comfortably.

So whatever your needs may be — operating capital, livestock, machinery, construction, farm mortgages or estate planning — make it a point to visit the Friendly First. Because no area bank understands farming and farm finance better.

On being a farm wife

—And other hazards

By JOYCE BUPP

To the nation that has in turn been captivated by the emotional tattle-tale mood ring, embraced tons of pet rocks, and found deep affection for a loveable alien from the outer cosmic limits, named Mork, I issue a heartfelt plea.

Take pity on a poor Pennsylvania pothole.

Those experts who duly report such mind-bending facts have determined that, nationally, there is an average of 49 potholes per mile of road.

Without consulting my pocket computer, I figure that should allow at least one to a family.

So, you are by default, the proud owner of your very own pothole. Now what are you going to do with it?

If gardening is your bag, may I suggest that you plant a rose in it. Potholes are already a thorny problem; a few ouchy stickers certainly can't make it worse.

Erect a fence around it, plant pasture grass and raise a steer. Maybe you'll get lucky and no one will butcher or steal him from you.

With the price of oil what it is today, would you consider drilling through the bottom of your pothole? There may be a fortune in crude just waiting there.

Wrap a bow around it and send it to a friend for April Fool's Day.

Turn it into a neighborhood landfill and discontinue weekly garbage pickup.

Keep in mind that you may be parenting a naughty pothole that persists in unsociable activities. I'm specifically thinking of the crater that once ate up one of my brand new car tires. Would the owner please fess up and come clean?

After all, he does owe me for a tire, plus the cost of a front end alignment.

"ENERGY-PAK"

IS OXYGEN CONTROLLED

*WHAT IS AN "ENERGY-PAK" OXYGEN CONTROLLED FEED STORAGE SYSTEM?

The "Energy-Pak" "Oxygen Controlled" Storage System includes a solid, steel reinforced concrete wall with a tough epoxy coating on the inside wall and a cone shaped concrete roof All access openings to the Silage Storage area are round and fitted with air-tight gaskets These round openings are easily clamped tight These features help to control and limit the amount of oxygen that comes in contact with the feed

In operating an "Energy-Pak", prime importance is placed on closing the silo after each filling and feeding operation Proper use of this system significantly reduces the oxygen content in the silo and results in a more ideal condition for maintaining the quality of the feed put into it

Look Into The Advantages Of A Swine "Castle"

AGSTAR® THE QUALITY BUILDERS

To see why our factory-built Sow, Pig, or Hog CASTLES can work so much better for you than other types — take a look inside

Here are just some of the features that add up to more comfortable sows and more pigs saved in our Sow CASTLE models fast growth and economical gains in our Pig CASTLE (nursery) and Hog CASTLE (finishing) models Great ventilation and heating. Superior ventilation means all animals get fresh, temperature controlled air constantly Fan-forced heating, and adjustable draft-free fresh air inlets at the roof peak keep animals confortable and thrifty in any weather

A building that's easier to manage Features like rigid white fiberglass walls, slotted metal flooring, waterproof electrical fixtures — these make it fast and easy to pressure-spray and sanitize the entire building So it stands to reason that if sanitation is easier, there'll be less disease, less stress on swine (and you), less feed used per pound of gain, and more profit on every animal

Best of all — it's factory built. This means it's virtually an "instant" building When it's delivered to you it's complete with all equipment, plumbing, electrical fixtures You don't need to mess with contractors or workmen

- COW MATS PROVIDE GREATER COW COMFORT. Here's the biggest reason for you to consider the use of cow mats. Farmer after farmer has testified that cow mats have extended the life and production of their cows. Cows that became stiff or lame have shown remarkable recoveries on mats. We believe greater cow comfort means more production and we know from experience that cows given a choice will prefer our mats over concrete every time. Try a few mats and let your cows prove it for you.
- COW MATS SLASH BEDDING REQUIREMENTS. Like thousands of other farmers, you can cut your bedding use by 80% or more, and your cows will still enjoy greater comfort.
- COW MATS SAVE TIME AND LABOR. By reducing the amount of bedding used, you'll automatically save time and labor used in the handling, storage and distribution, plus have more time for management.
- COW MATS REDUCE COW INJURIES. The cushion comfort provided by cow mats protects against most udder and leg injuries (or swollen hocks) found with cows that are bedded on concrete.
- COW MATS EASILY PAY FOR THEMSELVES. If you have to purchase part or all of your bedding, cow mats can pay for themselves in as little as one year. Considering the other advantages, cow mats are a good investment that will continue to pay off year after year.
- COW MATS ARE EASILY INSTALLED. Fast, simple installation in new or existing free stall, tie stall, stanchion type barns. Exclusive manufacturing process produces a non-porous mat that won't absorb liquids. Flat, non-ribbed surface is easy to clean.

STABILIZED NITROGEN

It's 8 bushels better.

You can get four dollars back for every dollar you invest in N-Serve* nitrogen stabilizer.

Because N-Serve stabilizes nitrogen. And stabilized nitrogen increases corn yields an average of 8 bushels per acre over regular nitrogen.

How do we know? Because stabilized nitrogen has been used on farms like yours throughout the U.S. And over several years, under varying weather, soil and moisture conditions, the yields prove it.

Stabilized nitrogen is, on the average, 8 bushels better than regular nitrogen.

So this spring, ask your dealer to add N-Serve to your anhydrous, liquid or dry nitrogen. Your nitrogen will be stabilized, and your yield improved.

N-Serve stabilizes nitrogen. And stabilized nitrogen is better.

8 bushels better.

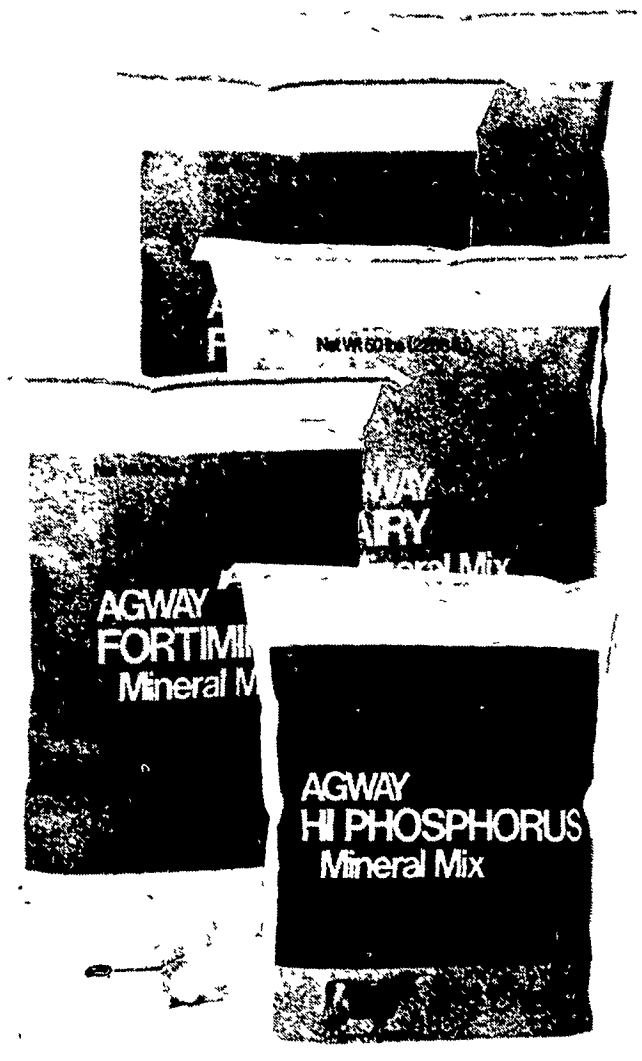
Don't Pay More For Minerals Than You Should!

"... more money is wasted and herd health damaged by fancy mineral mixes than by any other single feed purchased on northeastern dairy farms."

Dr Kendall L Dolge
Agway Animal Nutritionist



While minerals are important to animal health, they are not a cure-all Lack of any one of the 21 minerals known to be required by cows can result in health problems But these minerals interact and excesses can be as toxic and dangerous as deficiencies

Forage analysis—a must The only sure way of determining mineral needs is to analyze your forage and other feeds Easiest way to do this is thru your Agway Dairy Enterprise Serviceperson who can arrange for an analysis plus a Total Dairy Ration Profile, available only from Agway The TDR will indicate any minerals that are marginal or deficient If you don't need minerals, Agway will tell you so

In general, Agway feeds include minerals in sufficient quantities for most situations. Any additional needs can be filled with one of these Agway mineral mixes

Fortimin™ For use with corn silage or grass forage programs when little alfalfa is fed.

Legumin® Used mainly when 1/3 to 2/3 of forages fed are legumes (alfalfa).

Hi-Phosphorous Specifically formulated for cows fed mostly legume forages.

Hi-Calcium Better than limestone because it contains trace minerals, plus sulfur and magnesium.

Dairy Minerals For mixing into local grists. Not for free-choice feeding.

Your Agway Dairy Enterprise Serviceperson can help you make the right decision on minerals.

Another big year expected for corn

By DIETER KRIEG

LANCASTER — Despite a 1550 million bushel corn carry-over from the 1978 crop, big corn acreages are expected again this year, says Penn State's H. Louis Moore.

The well-known agricultural economist bases that opinion on the following facts:

1. Fertilizer sales were up 22 per cent in the Fall; 2. Wheat plantings were up eight per cent last Fall; 3. Much land was prepared for planting last Autumn, and 4. The Dec. 1979 Corn Futures are $2.60 per bushel, which would encourage growers. Furthermore, planting intentions indicate that 1979 may well be another big year for corn.

Speaking here at the Lancaster County Cattle Feeders Day earlier this year, Moore summarized the present feed situation: Supply - abundant, Price - reasonable, Demand - excellent, and Carryover - too much. "The feed situation is very, very favorable to feeding livestock in the coming year," the economist concluded.

On the subject of grain exports, Moore sees them booming, but considers potential trade with Communist China as "small" compared to what's already taking place. He predicts grain carryovers will continue to build despite shipments overseas. The supply of corn, he points out, is more than can be used domestically or sold to foreigners.

The huge supplies of grain could be brought down by an increase in livestock numbers, Moore offered. The number of cattle on farms is in the midst of the sharpest cyclical decline on record, he lectured. Four years ago 132 million head of cattle were on U.S. farms. In January of this year that figure dwindled down to 110-112 million head, which represents a 16 per cent decrease.

With beef prices climbing, and consumers evidently being willing to pay a little more in order to have more, farmers are finding it advantageous to increase production. Moore predicts that the per capita consumption of beef this year will be around 111-115 pounds, compared to a whopping 129 pounds per person in 1976.

Dairy, hog, and poultry farmers are also taking advantage of the grain supplies. Moore predicts a 15 per cent increase in hog production this year. Milk production is expected to climb somewhat as well, and chicken farmers can be expected to move on short notice to meet the challenges of the months ahead.

Penn State's agricultural economist H. Louis Moore has been known to go out on a limb with his predictions, but he has never made his forecasts from the inside of a silo (and he really didn't here either). Anyway, he expects 1979 to be another tall year for corn.

Kendy's Kollumn

by Kendace Borry

"Why are silos round?" the man asked me.

Oh my, I thought to myself, how do I get out of this one, and still end up looking intelligent. How do I know why silos are round.

Stalling for time, I frowned in what I hoped would pass for a thoughtful look, while crazy answers buzzed through my head. In all the time I spent on the farm, and worked for Lancaster Farming, nobody ever asked me such a question.

Growing up around the tall cylindric objects, I guess I just took them for granted. A silo was round, had always been round, and always would be round. There was just no two ways about it.

The only excitement around them happened when one noticed a thin wisp of smoke coming out of the top of them, or one of the giant columns slowy but surely started to lean one way or the other.

So, I pondered, why are silos round?

"To keep the feed from getting caught in the corners," I told him, trying to look serious.

But I have a feeling I'm not going to get much sleep until I find out for sure just why those silos are built in that shape.

SHOPPING FOR A MICROWAVE OVEN?

Do you know that over thirty-five manufacturers now produce anywhere from one to eight or more models of microwave ovens. The features and warranties of the ovens vary considerably. Yet recent market research has shown that consumers do little comparison shopping, for price, features or warranty coverage.

Most manufacturers offer a one or two year full warranty. At least one manufacturer has a five year full warranty. A limited warranty on the magnetron tube - the most costly component of the oven - can be for as little as two or as many as seven years.

Provisions vary. Some warranties are for in-home service; others require you to bring the appliance to an authorized service center.

The limited warranty on the magnetron tube may cover parts and labor, or it may be limited to parts only.

Be sure to take the time to read and compare before you buy. If this seems bothersome to you, consider how bothersome it is to try and get a lemon fixed with no warranty recourse.

Warranty coverage on any product is an important feature to consider when you are shopping.

Many people who love the idea of a microwave oven do not like the idea of giving up limited counter space in exchange.

Now a leading manufacturer is coming to our rescue with a new countertopless microwave oven that can be installed above a conventional range in the cabinet niche normally occupied by a range hood.

The oven should be on the retail shelves by March. The suggested list price is expected to hover around $550.

The unit is 30 inches wide and attached to the wall behind it and the cabinets above it and to its sides. A vent and over-head light are included beneath the unit. The total unit weighs about 110 pounds and can be mounted professionally or by the consumer.

FOR MOVING FAMILIES – FUNDS ARE NECESSARY

In today's mobile society, it is the unusual family that isn't faced at least once or more with the challenge of uprooting itself - lock, stock, barrel and bank account – and establishing new ties in a strange town or city where family members may be completely unknown.

Among all of the other adjustments and arrangements that must be made, many families have found to their chagrin that they have failed to provide for the necessary cash to get through the traumatic first two weeks. Or, that the funds represented by the cashier's check they thought would meet their needs were not available to them until the paying bank actually transferred the cash, which could take as long as 10 days.

The forced delay in use of one's funds often comes as a shock to bank customers who have come to think of checks – both personal and cashier's – as near cash. In truth, neither has any cash value until the funds represented are collected. And, in actual fact, a cashier's check is just about as easy to counterfeit as a personal check.

While it is true that the check-collection process has been speeded up in recent years through the use of high-speed check-sorting equipment and computers, checks returned for insufficient funds must still be handled manually, and forwarded back to the endorsing bank – usually through U.S. mails.

In addition, because there is currently no universal or risk-free means of identification available in this country, banks will frequently require a "satisfactory" account relationship over a period of time (could be 30-90 days) as a means of establishing customer identification. Another delay.

Can anything be done to speed up the process? Yes. The American Bankers Association suggests you consider the following tips:

Before closing your present account, sit down and talk to an officer in your bank, explain that you are

In minimum till corn...
"Banvel Herbicide does a better job."

Wayne McGinnis, White Hall, MD

"Since we started using Banvel herbicide six or seven years ago, we hardly ever see morningglory anymore. We get very good control of thistle. Compared to 2,4-D, Banvel does a better job. It gives a broader range of control of some of the more resistant broadleaves."

Wayne McGinnis, White Hall, MD 600-700 acres in corn

Breck Debnam, Chestertown, MD 2400 acres in corn.

"We really started using Banvel herbicide heavy on our no-till weed problems four years ago. Canada thistle is our biggest problem . . . we went to Banvel herbicide because we got twisted corn with 2,4-D. You have more tolerance with the weather. Banvel is a lot safer than the old 2,4-D."

"It doesn't make corn brittle even though I use a regular sprayer. We spray Banvel herbicide right on top, when corn is six inches high. This is the right stage to hit morningglory. My major weed problem is cocklebur . . . and Banvel herbicide does a nice job on it. Control? Super!"

Fred Hubbard, Federalsburg, MD 300 acres in corn

John 'Buddy' Burner, Luray, VA 150-200 acres in corn

"The first time we used Banvel herbicide about four years ago, we got excellent results. Old 2,4-D has been a standby for years. But Banvel herbicide with 2,4-D gives much better control . . . with Banvel herbicide and 2,4-D we're getting weeds we did not get with 2,4-D alone . . . Banvel herbicide looks like the most economical way to control problem weeds."

For years, successful minimum-till corn producers have been depending on Banvel to stop tough, resistant, late emerging broadleaf weeds.

Banvel is very effective against hard-to-kill perennial broadleafs as well as such weeds as Canada thistle (seedlings), morningglory, pigweed, lambsquarter, ragweed, and annual clover. Tank-mixed with atrazine, Banvel knocks out horsenettle or combined with 2,4-D, it will even take care of the super-tough velvetleaf, Canada thistle and many more.

Late germinating broadleaf weeds need not lower your corn yields. Follow the lead of other successful Banvel users who have found Banvel herbicide is a much needed "success" ingredient for higher minimum-till corn yields.

about to leave the area, and where you are going, and ask for advice.

If you are personally known by the banker, or your account relationship is evident on paper, you can request a letter of recommendation with an invitation to the banker in your new hometown to call direct to verify any of the facts.

Your current banker will probably recommend enough cash in travelers checks to cover immediate needs and to establish a new account balance where you're going. Meanwhile, your present account will remain open until all outstanding checks have cleared (usually 14 days).

Once all checks have come in, the remainder of your old account balance can simply be wired to your new bank and credited to your account.

It takes a little advance planning and coordination with your banker, but your funds can be there – when you are.

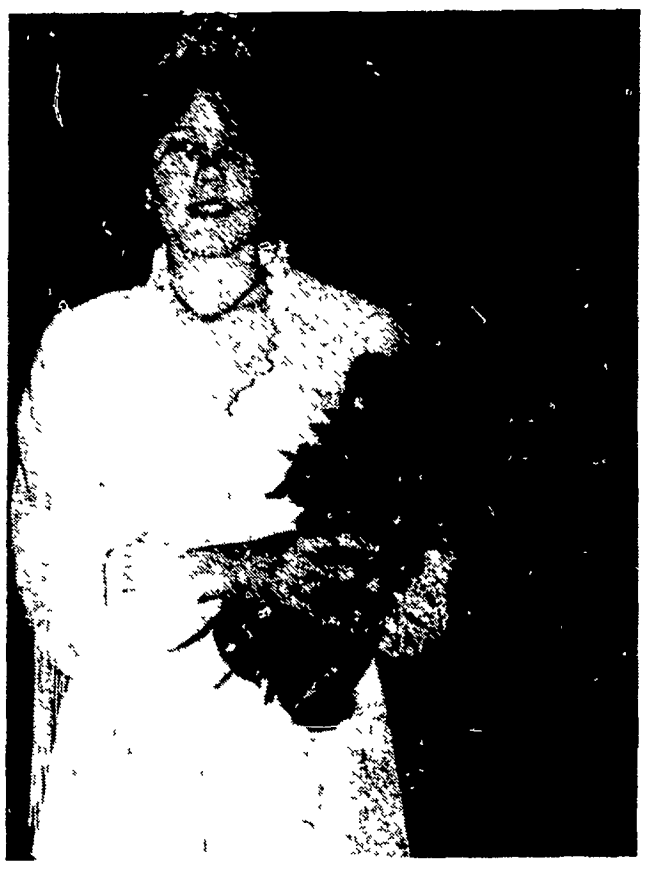
Gifford Pinchot FFA honors members

By JOYCE BUPP
Staff Correspondent

DILLSBURG - "An FFA member can become a leader by caring and showing responsibility within the farm community. Vocational agriculture encourages this," says Jeff Kerr, president of the Northern District and York County Future Farmers of America.



Kathy Miller is the Gifford Pinchot FFA's newly-crowned chapter Sweetheart.

Kerr welcomed 200 members, friends and guests of the Gifford Pinchot Chapter to their annual FFA awards banquet and program, held March 1 at the Northern Senior High School, in conjunction with the first banquet of the area's Young Farmer chapter.

During the evening of recognition, Dr. Robert Owen, Dillsburg R2, was awarded the honorary Chapter Farmer Degree. The veterinarian received the FFA honors for his work with the members on their livestock health programs.

A special presentation was given to Ronald Mackey, Wellsville R1, who accepted on behalf of the district's newly-organized chapter of the Pennsylvania Young Farmer program. He is president of the charter group of 18 members, whose

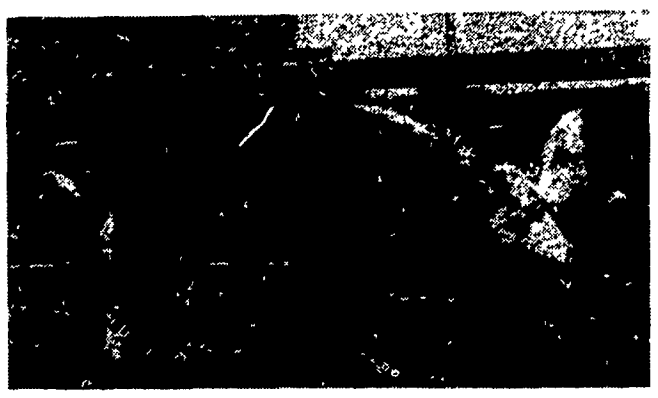
WHEN YOUR PROBLEM IS

SHIPPING FEVER/ PNEUMONIA



Program for prevention with bovine virus vaccines.

Protecting your cattle against infectious bovine rhinotracheitis (IBR), bovine virus diarrhea (BVD) and parainfluenza$_3$ (PI_3) is an important step in controlling shipping fever and pneumonia. IBR attacks the respiratory system allowing bacterial pneumonia organisms to overtake sick and weakened animals. BVD has similar end results. PI_3 is frequently associated with both IBR and BVD. Pasteurella haemolytica and Pasteurella multocida are commonly involved with the disease complex.

Whatever your management needs, you'll find that a complete line of Anchor modified-live virus vaccines and bacterin diluents gives you the flexibility necessary to protect against this disease complex.

OXY-TET 50™ and OXY-TET 100™ Everything you want in an injectable antibiotic. Everything.

OXY-TET 50™ has proven rapid, high blood levels and is less than one-third as toxic as other oxytetracycline injectables. And Anchor's unique, patented PVP-in-water vehicle formulation causes less pain and tissue damage than other formulations previously available.

New OXY-TET 100™ contains 100 mg oxytetracycline per ml so it requires half the dosage of a 50 mg product. You make half as many injections ... fill the syringe half as often.

ANCOSUL™
(sulfadimethoxine)
Your save time, save money sulfa.

ANCOSUL™ is a low-dose, rapidly-absorbed, long-acting sulfonamide. ANCOSUL BOLUSES save you time ... just one dose a day does it. And they save you money because of the low dosage.

Meanwhile, ANCOSUL is also saving you hours ... even days in milk and meat withdrawal time. Only 60 hours withdrawal for milk ... 7 days withdrawal before slaughter. ANCOSUL is available in 2.5, 5, and 15 g boluses, and in new INJECTABLE SOLUTION, SOLUBLE POWDER, and DRINKING WATER SOLUTION formulations.

AMINO-LITE For the support they need when they need it most.

Shipping fever and pneumonia can drain your cattle of the very nutrients, protein, and energy they need to fight off the infection.

AMINO-LITE BOLUSES and AMINO-LITE INJECTABLE provide predigested protein, electrolytes, chelated minerals, and vitamins to give your cattle the nutrient support that is invaluable in the fight against disease.

VITAMIN ADB$_{12}$ Additional support for feeder cattle.

Vitamin deficiency in feedlots has caused considerable loss to cattlemen. Young and growing cattle are most often affected. Symptoms include loss of appetite, poor gains and weakness. And these cattle are less able to resist bacterial infections.

Injectable ADB$_{12}$ is ideal for these feeders. It provides a ready source of vitamins so necessary for the development of healthy membranes, proper bone growth and normal red blood cell formation.

Aids offered to food exporters

ANNAPOLIS, Md. - Maryland's agricultural exporters are going to get two new helping hands from the State's Agriculture Department: an international telex machine and a first time ever export directory of Maryland food products.

Marty Urlock, International Marketing Specialist with MDA's Division of Marketing says the telex machine should be installed within the next sixty days. It will be used primarily to assist the state's food and agricultural export industry in locating foreign markets and in negotiating and consummating export sales.

At the same time, Urlock is preparing a directory of Maryland firms interested in tapping into the vast export market for their raw and processed food products.

Listings will be free.

The directories will be distributed throughout the world.

Maryland businessmen seeking information on these and all other export services available through the Maryland Department of Agriculture should contact Urlock by calling him in Annapolis at 301-269-2181.

1979 dog licenses now past due

HARRISBURG – State Agriculture Secretary Penrose Hallowell is reminding Pennsylvania dog owners that 1979 dog licenses are now overdue. He urged owners to purchase a new 1979 license for their pets.

Under the Pennsylvania Dog Law of 1965, all dogs six months or older must be licensed no later than January 15 of each year. The Agriculture Department's Bureau of Dog Law Enforcement is responsible for the enforcement of the act.

Hallowell expressed his concern that so many Pennsylvanians neglect to buy licenses for their dogs. "Last year, less than one million of the state's estimated 2.5 million dogs were licensed.

"Licenses are not expensive," he added, "and can save a lot of heartache for the responsible pet owner." A license identifies the owner, which makes it simple for dog law officers or local humane societies to return lost and stray dogs.

David Walton, director of the Bureau of Dog Law Enforcement, said that 1979 dog license tags are a bright red model, which will make it easy for dog law enforcement officers and police to check an animal for a license. Fines for owning unlicensed dogs range from $10-$300.

Licenses cost $1.20 for males and spayed females, and $2.20 for unspayed females. Dog licenses for 1979 are still available and may be purchased from the County Treasurer at the County Courthouse or from an authorized agent.

More information about dogs and the Pennsylvania Dog Law can be obtained by writing the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Dog Law Enforcement, 2301 North Cameron Street, Harrisburg, Pa. 17120 or by calling 717-787-4833.

Freezing Foods

Freezing is a simple, popular method of preserving foods at home. It retains the natural color, flavor, texture and food value of most fruits and vegetables, meats and baked goods For successful freezing, select good, quality products. Freezing will not improve low grade food Most fruit can be frozen satisfactorily if you select sound, ripe fruit that is slightly riper than you would want it for canning — but is not yet soft or mushy.

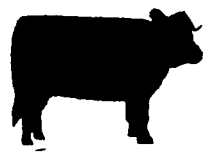
Dairy promotion meeting set ..

YORK – "Plans are now underway for June Dairy Month activities," says Kathy Lehman, chairman of York County's dairy princess and promotional committee.

All interested dairy farm families and related industries representatives are invited to attend a planning meeting for this year's promotional events, set for Monday, March 12, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the 4-H Center.

Two events under discussion are the annual dairy princess pageant and a display at the York Mall.



4-H dairy meetings slated

LANCASTER - The Lancaster County 4-H Dairy Club announce the reorganization dates of their 4-H dairy clubs. Youth between the ages of 8 and 18 as of January 1, this year, who are interested in raising a dairy animal are invited to attend.

The Ayrshire, Brown Swiss and Jersey 4-H Dairy Club will meet 7:30 p.m. at the Lancaster Farm and Home Center on Monday, March 12.

The Golden Guernsey 4-H Dairy Club will meet 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, March 13, at the Raymond Witmer farm, route 222 about 7 miles south of Lancaster; the farm is on the south side of the Pequea Creek.

The Lancaster County Holstein 4-H Dairy Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, March 22 at the Lancaster Farm and Home Center.

Members are required to own and raise a registered dairy heifer or cow. During the year, they learn how to proper care for their cattle; they train and groom their project animals, keep feed, health and breeding records, and at the end of the summer, show their animals at the County 4-H Dairy Show. To qualify for this year's shows, calves should be born before March 31 of this year and must be registered in the member's name before May 1, this year.

In addition to learning about cattle, members have an opportunity to meet other friends who have similar interests. They elect officers, have their own business meetings, and help plan and conduct a variety of activities of interest to them.

The 4-H program is conducted under the guidance of volunteer leaders in cooperation with the Cooperative Extension Services in each county and, in Pennsylvania.

For more information, call the Lancaster County Extension Service (telephone 717-394-6851).

Lebanon County tree seedling sale slated

LEBANON – The Lebanon County Conservation District is offering all landowners the opportunity to enhance their property through the purchase of evergreen and deciduous tree seedlings.

"Last year was our first year with this program and it went well," says Gene Odato, forester with the District. "There seems to be tremendous interest this year already so we hope to get a lot more trees planted in the Lebanon County area."

These seedlings can be used for ornamental plantings, soil loss reduction, shade trees, energy saving windbreaks, living fences and plantations. "Windbreaks can reduce home heating costs by 4 to 15 per cent," he said, and properly placed deciduous trees can further reduce those costs. Deciduous trees should be placed on the south side of the home to shade it in the summer and allow the sun to warm it in the Winter. Windbreaks should normally be placed on the north or west side of the home depending on geographical variations."

The evergreens that are being offered are Blue Spruce, White Pine and Douglas Fir. They will be sold in packets of 10 of the same species for $2 plus sales tax and there is no limit to the number one can buy. All trees are three years old and are six to 14 inches in heighth.

The Blue Spruce is an excellent tree for yard plantings and windbreaks. Because of its silver blue and green colors it is highly sought after for beautifying one's yard. Although it is a slow grower it can reach heights of 40 feet and crowns of 25 feet.

Norway Spruce is a fast growing tree that has been extensively planted throughout Pennsylvania for timber and pulpwood production. It is also used for ornamental purposes because of its straight tapering form and its upswinging branches. Under ideal conditions this tree can reach a maximum heighth of 125' and 3 feet in diameter.

Douglas Fir grows to 200 feet. Will reach six feet in nine to 10 years, starting with a three year seedling. It has short, soft blue-green needles and grows fastest in moist well drained, light soil, in full sun. It will not do well in heavy, wet, clay soil. It would be almost impossible to overrate the value and beauty of a Douglas Fir. It is the largest lumber producing tree in America, providing the country with 60 per cent of its timber. It is also the most popular Christmas tree because of its color, symmetrical form and its ability to hold its needles for a long time.

White Pine is one of the most beautiful and useful forest trees native to Pennsylvania. It is used for timber and pulpwood production, interior finish, cabinet work and many other articles. It does well on a range of soils and is a fast growing tree. It is recommended for Christmas tree use and as a windbreak because of its deep roots. White Pine grows to 100 feet tall and two to four feet in diameter.

The Red Oak grows to 75 feet. Its dense lustrous foilage turns a deep red in the Fall. It grows best in sandy to rich loamy soil in full sun and is the fastest growing of all oaks. One of the most popular ornamental oaks, it transplants easily, withstands city conditions, is clean in habit and makes one of the best street or avenue trees.

Sugar Maple is also known as the rock Maple. It grows to 120 feet. Dense, deep green, lobed leaves turn yellow to orange and red in the Fall. It thrives in moist well drained soil, and is one of the best and most common of our native shade trees. It is sturdy and breaks up less than other maples in snow, ice, and wind storms. It is very important in the production of timber and also valued for maple sugar and syrup.

The Tulip Poplar is known also as Yellow Poplar. It

Octorara Young Farmers happy with progress

By DIETER KRIEG

CHRISTIANA — Good planning and a schedule of "very good meetings" were credited here last Monday for the record-breaking success of the Octorara Young Farmers. Attendance at educational functions was the highest ever, and crop tests more than doubled over preceding years. This and more gave the Octorara Young Farmers reason to celebrate on Monday when they held their 10th annual awards dinner.

Held at the Christiana Fire Hall, the banquet attracted well over 100 persons. Aside from the recognition of club and individual achievements, the dinner meeting featured entertainment by a local singing group and a comedy skit by Earl Deckard of Perry County. Deckard is a two-time state winner of the Pennsylvania State Grange Talent Contest, having won the high laurels for both 1977 and 1978.

Although no outstanding Young Farmer was named during the awards banquet, two members clearly stood out as the front-runners, based on contest performances. Going along nip-and-tuck for many of the trophies were Harold Bair of Atglen and Ben Beiler of Russellville, both of whom are dairymen. Following are the placings of the contests.

Registration of poultry flocks urged

HARRISBURG – State Agriculture Secretary Penrose Hallowell recently emphasized the importance of registering small poultry flocks with the Agriculture Department's Bureau of Animal Industry in efforts to keep the state free of pullorum disease.

Hallowell noted that Pennsylvania was certified as a U.S. Pullorum-Typhoid Clean State in January 1978, but stressed the importance of small flock registration in detection and eradication of any remaining trace of the disease.

"According to information from Penn State we now have 11,000 famili s keeping backyard poultry or rabbits in Pennsylvania, and are gaining nearly ,000 new backyard flocks every year," he said. "It is essential that registration be conducted to provide statewide protection for the health of both large and small flocks. The poultry industry in the commonwealth is a $260 million a year enterprise which is essential to the state's agricultural economy."

Since the adoption of poultry auction regulations in July 1977, nearly 1,600 small flocks throughout the state have been registered. Inspectors from the Bureau of Animal Industry, licensed veterinarians and poultry technicians have tested nearly 700 eligible backyard poultry breeder flocks in that period.

Inspection and testing of registered flocks helps the owner establish Pullurom-Typhoid Free Flock status, and brings the flock into compliance with state disease eradication regulations. Through registration information, owners can also be quickly contacted in the event of a disease outbreak.

Once a flock is registered, the owner may sell the birds at auction in the state, and will receive timely information from the Bureau of Animal Industry concerning the protection and improvement of the birds' health.

Auction flock registration applications are available at poultry auctions and through the regional offices of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Correspondence courses on flock operation mangement are available through Penn State. Small flock owners who have completed these courses have been much more able to manage their flocks profitably.

The following courses are available from The Pennsylvania State University, 220 Animal Industries Building, University Par, Pa. 16802: Poultry Keeping, for chickens, Correspondence Course Number 92, $6.50; and Production of Market Turkeys, Correspondence Course Number 106, $5.50.

INTRODUCING THE SOLAR PLASTIC CALF HUTCH

- Easily disinfected after each calf. (Wood is not).
- Translucent to allow the sun's rays to dry bedding and to fight bacteria. (Both wood and fiberglass do not have this feature.)
- Long, useful life over wood and fiberglass. Wood rots; fiberglass is brittle when cold and can be fatal if chewed and eaten by calves (due to glass fibers ingested).
- Light weight: 100 lbs.
- Overall dimensions: 55" W., 88" L., 51" H.
- For shipping and storage, hutch can "nest" within 10 inches.
- In the long run, lower economic cost.

With Zone Heating
Efficient Gas Heating

★ ECONOMY - Northco Pig Brooders operate on just pennies a day because they use two small burners rather than one large gas eating burner Its operating cost is over 75% lower than that of heat lamps.

★ SIMPLICITY - One simple needle valve provides positive heat control. Burners can be easily removed for cleaning Chain suspension allows simple, quick height adjustment for added temperature control.

★ SAFETY - Northco Pig Brooders can be safely used over straw or litter. There is no need to worry about pigs being cut by broken lamps or loss by bedding fire. It works with any ventilation system.

★ Safe, Dependable "Zone Heating"
Northco Pig Brooders are excellent for brooding little pigs because they provide "zone-heat". Ideal temperatures for little pigs may be 25 to 30 degrees warmer than needed for the sow. With "zone-heating" temperatures are directed only to the little pig area, while sows remain cooler. If more heat is needed in extremely cold weather the brooders can be raised to heat the entire house ... eliminating the need for furnaces or costly unit heaters.

A real top dairy with 53 presently milking and sending almost 6,000 lbs. per pick up. (That's almost a 57 lb. average per cow.) and 32 are due next fall. Mostly all home raised and bred to good eastern sires for many years. They have the right kind of udders, are really milking and will satisfy even the most critical buyer. The dairy has been shot for shipping fever, blood tested, T.B. tested and are eligible for immediate interstate shipment. Necessary cattle examined for pregnancy, one of the finest dairys we have ever had the opportunity to sell.

Auctioneers Note: Son has been hospitalized and must be re-hospitalized. Otherwise these cattle would not be for sale. One of the best, if not the best grade dairys to be sold this year or any other year. Take a look, you will see what we mean.

SALE MANAGERS NOTE:

After careful consideration Mr. Rumsey has decided to cut down by selling his milking herd and calves, and keeping his bred hfrs. for a future base. This is a good herd operated under normal farm conditions. They are relatively young, fast-milking, and run a strong 4.0 test. Many will be fresh by sale time, so don't miss this opportunity for good replacements.
